POLITICAL NOTES.

—The Reform League of Philadelphia talks of putting up a ticket containing eight Democratic and eight Republican candidates for police magistrates.

—The editors of Northern Democratic papers are worse off than circus riders. They must leap through the hoops of the Souther White Leaguers whenever the latter choose to present them.

—An eminent New York physician expresses the opinion that books in public libraries may spread diseases. It does not follow, however, that the circulation of Democratic papers should be suppressed.

—A contemporary wants to know what there is to show for the whole month's sesssion of the Legislature. Let's see. Well, there was a fight between Furey and Josephs, and—there is Patterson.—"Williamsport Bulletin."

—Texas papers claim that that State contains a greater quantity of live oak than all the other States, of the Union combined. It also sends about the poorest timber to the local and national Legislatures, of any Commonwealth in the country.

—The Democrats are great economists. In Schuylkill county, where they control everything, they recently built a barn on the County House property, in which 1,500 feet of lumber was used; and the warrants drawn on the Treasurer to pay for it amounted to only $20,000;

—The appointment of Second Assistand Postmaster General Routt, as Governor of Colorado, said to have been determined on by the President, promises to prove thoroughly acceptable to the now disorganized Republicans of that Territory. The result of the next election, therefore, will probably be a general rout for the Democrats.

—Those Louisiana White Leaguers make excellent witnesses for the Republicans, on cross-examination before the Investigating Committee. Marr, one of the counsel for the "Conservatives," who has taken a prominent part in the White League movement, in this manner most ruinously marred his direct testimony, the other duy.

—William A. Wallace is suggested as a possible Democratic candidate for Governor next fall. And why not, if there is any chance for Democratic success at that time? Perhaps Mr. Wallace will not consent to resign his seat in the Senate to become Governor, but instances where Senators have done so are not by any means rare.—"Williamsport Bulletin."

—Some of the Democratic editors hope that one of the first acts of Andrew Johnson, when he takes his seat in the Senate, will be to "introduce articles of impeachment against Grant." Articles of impeachment can be introduced only in the House. A bushel of malevolence to a thimble-full of brains is out of all reasonable proportion, Messieurs Ignoramuses.

—The Johnstown Tribune states that one of the messengers in the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, is Theophilus Snyder, Democrat, of Blair county. He is reported to be worth $75,000, but as business is dull he is turning an honest penny in the obscure post of messenger, at $600 a year, thus preventing some poor but deserving Democrat from earning a much needed substance.

—The significant fact is presented, for the consideration of those Republicans who were so credulous as to look to the Democrats for "Reform," that in New Jersey, the Democratic House of Representatives has been compelled, by a thorough exposure of the truth, to remove its chief clerk for corrupt practices resorted to by him to secure his election. The party did its best to prevent the removal; but when the evidence of corruption was made public, it was too palpably direct to be disregarded. Corruption in New Jersey, and disgraceful inefficiency in Pennsylvania are the natural results of the Democratic victories in those States in 1874. Can any Republican who helped to bring about the "change" tell us of any advantages that have resulted from it?

REPUBLICAN WARD MEETINGS, AND BOROUGH CONVENTION.

The Republican voters of the various Wards of the Borough of Bellefonte, are requested to meet on Saturday evening, February 13th, at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating Ward Tickets, as follows:—

NORTH WARD.—At the Council Room, to nominate a Justice of the Peace, one Councilman, one School Director, one Judge of Elections, one Inspection of Elections, one Assessor, and choose three Delegates to the Borough Convention.

SOUTH WARD.—At the shop of J. H. McClure & Son, to nominate one Councilman, one School Director, one Judge of Elections, one Inspector of Elections, one Assessor, and choose three Delegates to the Borough Convention.

WEST WARD—At the office of the REPUBLICAN, to nominate one Councilman, one School Director, one Judge of Elections, one Inspector of Elections, one Assessor, and choose three Delegates to the Borough Convention.

The Delegates selected from the different Wards will meet in Convention at the Council Room, at 8 o'clock P. M. (same evening) for the purpose of nominating a Borough Ticket, as follows:—Chief Burgess, Assistant Burgess, Treasurer, Constable, two Overseers of the Poor, Assessor, Auditor, and High Constable.

After the adjournment of the Borough Convention, the Delegates from the South and West Wards, will meet at the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN office for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Justice of the Peace, to be supported by the voters of those two Wards, jointly. By order of the Committee.

ARE WE REPUBLICANS?—If we are, let every man be at his post on next Tuesday. We have now an opportunity to elect a Republican Representative. If every Republican in the county will do his duty by going to the polls on next Tuesday and voting for George W. Campbell, he will be triumphantly elected. Let every Republican see to it that the full vote of the party is polled on Tuesday next, the 16th inst. If the Modoc wing of the Democracy, keeps on increasing in numbers and influence, as it has done within the last few weeks, it will soon gobble up the entire Democratic party of Centre County.

OUR CANDIDATE.

At the meeting of the Republican Executive Committee on Thursday last, the name of George W. Campbell, a farmer of Harris township, was presented as a candidate for Assembly, and received the nomination for the same. The decease of Hon. S. S. Wolf, who was elected last fall, necessitates the election of another member from this county to fill the vacancy created by his death; hence the election of an Assemblyman at the spring election. In George W. Campbell we have a candidate who is eminently fitted in every particular to make an able and efficient representative. He is a man of excellent judgment, good business qualifications, and possesses a large amount of native intelligence, which has been cultivated by study and experience to a degree that gives him every qualification for a legislator. He is a man of the people, and not a truculent politition. His honesty and integrity of character, commend him to the most hearty support of the Republicans of Centre county, and to all honest citizens irrespective of party. William Alexander, the Democratic nominee, who is in the field against Campbell, is the offspring of a political trick, and he himself possesses no merit to entitle him even to the support of his party, other than that he is a party man, or rather a faction man — is a political trickster of the most unscrupulous character, having been educated in the P. Gray Meek school, and, stripped of his egotism and audaciousness, he becomes a mere nonentity.

In these days when public sentiment has become quite sensitive on the question of reform in politics and public life, surely the nomination of Alexander by the Democracy, is an act on their part, at direct variance with their public profession, and cry for reform and evinces that their profession and cry are a mere farce and catch penny.

The nomination made by the Republican party is one in the interest of reform, honesty and ability in public office; all of which is demanded and required by the people. We then earnestly ask for George W. Campbell, our candidate for Assembly to be voted for on Tuesday the 16th inst., the undivided support of the Republican Party, and the support of all honest citizens who are in favor of honesty and ability in public officials, and who are uneasy under the yoke of a domineering faction of the Democratic party in Centre county. A full Republican vote will elect George W. Campbell to the Legislature on Tuesday next.

THE Emperor of China is dead. This will not cast a gloom over this continent to any considerable extent, and yet, considering the pretensions of this monarch and the extent of his dominions it ought to be an event of some importance. We hardly realize the figure which the Chinese Empire makes in statistical tables. It is a large figure, Its territorial extent is something more than 5,000,000 of square miles, or about one tenth part of the habitable globe, and its population exceeds 400,000,000, or more than one third of all the people on this planet. It shows how many persons can exist within the limits of a square mile, and how little is actually necessary to support life, which is a matter of some practical importance in these hard times. There is, moreover, no people on the face of the earth more peaceable and contented, notwithstanding the closeness with which they are crowded together and the short allowance of resources which can be enjoyed by each individual.

The Emperor just deceased was a mere boy, not yet nineteen years old, who "came to the throne" at the tender age of five, but was kept under guardianship until 1873, when he assumed the Government. His name is a matter of little consequence, as he is never known by it in his country until he is dead, his numerous and imposing titles being quite as much as his subjects can be expected to remember. His name was, however, Toung-che. We are not informed who is to be his successor more definitely than that he is a child, five years old. The Emperor is permitted by the traditions of his country to have three wives, and the ordinary process of fixing the succession is for him to appoint one of the sons of his three wives, his choice not being made known until after his death.

THE resolutions adopted by prominent colored men in council at Washington, have been published over the signatures of Frederick Douglass, John M. Longston, A. M. Gibbs, Philip Joseph, and George W. Price. The document sets forth the lawlessness in the Southern States, heartily indorses the several messages of the President touching the murderous proceedings now in progress in several States in the South, and thanks the Republicans in Congress for the efforts made to suppress revolution and secure life and property in disturbed districts. The significant part of this paper is, however, the statement that Democratic victories have been an incentive to lawlessness, and that, in order to check calamity and disaster, the Republicans should carry out the logical results of their principles and extend civil rights to the colored people. If Congress declines to act, colored citizens will be driven into neutrality between parties, into joining the Democrats for self-protection, or into adopting a fearful policy of retaliation and revenge. The warning is timely. Will it be heeded?

THE night before the Democracy held their primary meetings to re-instruct their delegates, the Hon. P. G. Meek and the Hon. C. T. Alexander, visited Pleasant Gap, where they held a conference with J. G. Larimore Esq., who is one of the most shrewd and reliable politicians of Spring Township and the result of the vote showed with what success they met. Notwithstanding Mr. Hoy was born and raised in Spring township, a farmer boy, Mr. Meek beat him by a large majority; as well as having the delegates instructed for Mr. Alexander for legislator. We congratulate Mr. Meek on being able to command the confidence, as well as the aid of such successful politicians as Gip. Larimore and the Hon. Cyrus T. Alexander, whom it was our pleasure to support last Fall as a candidate for Congress against the ring or regular Democratic nominee, Hon. L. A. Mackey, who only received three of a majority in Centre county, while other candidates had upwards of a thousand. Where there is life there is hope.

The "Watchman" is quite jubilant over the success with which its favorite candidate, W. K. Alexander, met with in the late Democratic Convention. The result of the meeting looks to us as if the Modoc element is now in the ascendency and have complete control of the organization, the chairman of the Democratic County Committee excepted. We are informed that the Hon. C. T. Alexander, late candidate for Congress against the Ring ticket, contributed very materially toward bringing about the nomination of W. K. Alexander for the Legisluture and Mr. Meek's endorsement for the Senate, which is conclusive evidence that bolting the ticket is not always death to a politician.

We would just say to our neighbor of the "Watchman," that if we must have a political opponent in the Legislature, that we prefer one who is endorsed by the Modoc element of the Democratic party, and if it is out of the question so far as the "Watchman" would have us to believe, to elect our candidate, George W. Campbell, Esq., one of the very best men in Centre Co, then we must confess, that Mr. Alexander is our second choice and we will not be disappointed if he should be elected, for this will be the very best evidence that the old time Democracy of which we used to read, no longer exists in Centre county. Peace to its ashes.

OUR ASSOCIATED PRESS LETTER.

PHILADELPHIA, February 10, 1875.

POLITICS IN PHILADELPHIA.

The nominations for the February elections have been made by both parties, and the selections of either party are entirely acceptable—to those nominated. The general public who are magnanimously permitted to do the voting, and who are required to pay the taxes which keep the machinery of our local government in running order, do not contemplate the nominations with that degree of unanimity and fervor calculated to inspire the nominees with perfect confidence and general serenity.

Would you believe that naughty little rebellions have broken out right here in the goodly City of Brotherly Love, and that the presumptuously willful people have rebelled against the party, and with irreverent impertinence have proceeded to nominate candidates in harmony with themselves. Such an insolent disregard for the law and order of party managers is perfectly reposterous and I am really surprised that Sam Josephs and Bill McMullin, (Democrats) have not joined hands with the Mysterious Pilgrims in calling upon the President to put down this wicked rebellion by force of arms.

As showing how the people regard the managers' nominations, I select a few extracts from an address issued by the Democrats of one of the wards in this city, followed by an appeal to Republicans in another ward:

"To the Honest Democracy of Philadelphia:

"The shameful farce enacted at the Magistrates' Convention last Wednesday, the notorious character of the mob who controlled it, and the means employed to accomplish the purposes of the political tricksters at whose bidding the dirty work was performed, are a disgrace to the city, and an insult to every respectable Democrat; and the Democracy of the Twenty-ninth ward, in mass meeting assembled, appeal to their brethren throughout the city to join them in repudiating the entire proceedings as unworthy of confidence and support.

"The respectable character of some of the candidates nominated cannot blind us to the damning fact that they were placed upon the ticket solely to mislead the people into support of it, and to cover up the ulterior designs of the gang, who are leagued with the Republican members of the Ring to foist upon our city a set of political Magistrates in their own corrupt interest.

"We charge that the Magistrates' bill was originally framed, and all the political movements under it, have been made with the fixed purpose of perpetuating the power of the Ring, by the aid of what if successful, will prove the most powerful of all rings—an Aldermanic Ring.

"We charge that Cassidy, McMullin, Leech and Josephs, in pursuance of this preconcerted programme, arranged the slate, which, with few exceptions, has been adopted.

"We charge that there is a perfect understanding between the leading Ringsters of both parties, to select from the two tickets only those who are identified with them, and who can be relied on, while the balance of the candidates are to be slaughtered on the day of election. * * * *

"In view of all these shameful charges, and with the full knowledge that the notorious quartette of political shysters—Cassidy, McMullin, Leach and Josephs—around whom are centered all the corrupt and disreputable elements in our organization, have thus brazenly assumed to dictate who shall be the men to whom are to be entrusted the primary judicial functions of passing upon the liberty and the property of the people, and who will be, to a great extent, responsible for the preservation of order in the community—is it any wonder that independent, respectable Democrats mistrust the entire action of the so-called convention.

"When citizens like Hay, Gamble, Becker, Bradford, Cantrell, Witham, Lowry, Carroll, Murphy, Findlay, Phillips, Ogden, and others, are shoved aside for the Hagans, Moores, Quirks, Leanys, McCarthys, Mahars, Atwells, and other creatures of the Ring, nothing remains for us but to repudiate the entire batch as presented, and demand a new ticket.

"The Democracy of the 29th Ward believe that the duties of citizenship are paramount to the simple behests of party, on an issue of such momentous importance, involving as it does, the welfare of the entire community; and they appeal to all good men in our own organanization, to the members of the Reform Association, and the Union League, and all other citizens in favor of reform, to take immediate measures, for the purpose of placing before the people a ticket composed of such good men as can be eliminated from both party tickets, or selected outside of them, as will command the entire confidence and support of the people: believing, as they do, that unless such a separate and distinct ticket is presented, it will be utterly impossible to defeat this last desperate effort of the Ring."

This address is signed by a president, 36 vice presidents and two secretaries, and who are among the most influential and intelligent citizens in the ward.

At a meeting of the Republican Citizens of the Twentieth Ward, held on Friday evening, Jan. 29th, 1875, at the S. W. corner of Sixth street and Girard avenue, it was unanimously,

"Resolved, That the nomination of the 'Ring' for Common Council is hereby repudiated and that this resolution be published in the daily papers.

[Signed] "THOS. STINSON, Pres't
"A. D. IRWIN, Secretary.

The "Ring" candidate of this Ward is a Mr. Baldwin, and in the address to the public he is thus villified:

"His vote in caucus defeated Frederick Graeff, the intelligent and honest Chief Engineer of the Water Department. Mr. Graeff was turned out because he could not be used by the 'ring.' The change from Mr. Graeff to Mr. McFadden has no doubt cost the city, to this time, about $500,000. Mr. Baldwin was chairman of the caucus and had the casting vote, which he gave to Mr. McFadden.

He was chairman of the sub-committee which recommended, and he advocated on the floor of Select Council, the proposed job of renting the Girard building, which, if the Select Council had passed, would have cost the city not less than $20,000 per annum for ten years—$200,000. This was known as a "ring" measure and would have been highly beneficial to that responsible concern known as the "People's Bank."

He was in favor of the $1,200,000 to build the Walnut Street Bridge. This was the most infamous and bare-faced scheme of plunder suggested last year.

He was in favor of abolishing the Fire Commission, and to appoint one man in the "ring" interest as chief. That man lay between McCullough and Baldwin.

He advocated in committee, on the floor of Select Council and attempted to lobby in Common Council, the little school-house job on Tenth street, below Columbia Avenue, at a price far beyond its value, and entirely unsuited for school purposes by reason of its close proximity to a factory."

These are a few of the reasons advanced by observing citizens of the Twentieth ward why Mr. Baldwin "in the oil trade," should not represent the Twentieth ward in Common Council.

These voluntary effusions of disturbive minds that have been intruded upon an intelligent people, will be properly resented at the polls by intelligence depositing "straight" tickets and thereby electing very crooked candidates.

The independent movements are not confined to these two wards; they exist in a number of them, and notably in the Fourth Ward—Mr. Wm. McMullin's—where a large number of respectable Democrats have had the unblushing effrontery to present a candidate for Select Council against the candidate set up by the late Alderman, now Councilman McMullin.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Bids for materials to be used for the public works of the City are now being opened by the heads of departments.

The lowest bid for straight hard brick for the Public Buildings was $9.75 per 1,000 provided no more than 1,800,000 are taken: from one to fifteen millions are offered at $10.75, and as it requires nearly 5,000,000 for the summer's work the contract will be awarded at the latter rate most likely.

The lowest bid for laying these bricks, is six dollars per thousand, the City, to furnish lime and sand.

The Water Department awards a bid for supplying 50,000 feet of lead pipe at 6¾ cts. per pound; 300,000 pounds of iron castings at 2½ cts. per pound; for 500 four-inch water pipes, and 6700 six-inch pipes, 1 74-100 cents a pound; for eight-inch, ten-inch, and twelve-inch pipes 1 72-100 cts. the pound.

The clerk Robert Stahl, who stole over $21,000 from Drexel & Co., pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzlement and larceny, and was sentenced to three years imprisonment and $50 fine; with the money stolen, Stahl went into the business of importing French wines, brandies, etc., sunk all the money, blasted his own and his children's reputation, and has learned to his sorrow to what champagne will fetch a fellow.

STATE ITEMS.

—The famous Sinking Spring, Berks county, is entirely dried up.

—Northumberland county has had five murder trials, within three years.

—Tioga county shipped seven tons of butter and poultry to the East, one day last week.

—Mr. Isaac Kupp, of Union township, Berks county, has a ewe that gave birth to four lambs.

—Morris Feger, of Pottstown, a man grown, was so shocked by the death of his mother, a few days ago, as to produce paralysis.

—On Saturday last four coal trains of one hundred and fifty cars each passed over the Lehigh Valley Railroad to Philadelphia.

—James Wilson the young man who "mysteriously disappeared" from Williamsburg, Blair county, has turned up in Cleveland, Ohio.

—Two practical nailers of Birdsboro have invented an improved self-feeding nail machine that will cut from a small tack to an inch spike.

—The American Wood-paper Company, at Spring City, Chester county, having received orders for 70,000 tons of paper, started their works on full time last week.

—A county paper says the State Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, "from present appearances is only the woman's rights movement under a mask and on a more extended scale."

—A young man named Henderson, book-keeper for Brown & Martin, merchants at Karns City, has been arrested on a charge of embezzling twenty thousand dollars from his employers.

—Mrs. D. C. Graves, of Oil City, attempted to commit suicide at Franklin, on Sunday last by taking ten pills, each containing one grain of morphine. A doctor was called and succeeded in saving her life.

—An exchange asks: 'If there's a place for everything, where's the place for a bolt?' It has been said that the best place for such an ornament is on some other fellow, and we don't think a better place can be discovered.—Norristown Herald.

—The Phœnix Iron Company announces another reduction in wages, to take effect February 1st, 1875. The amount of reduction is not yet determined upon, but it will be in the neighborhood of 10 per cent. and extend to all departments of the works.

—Mr. John Musser, a farmer of Upper Leacock township, Lancaster county, sold to Mr. C. S. Musselman one hundred and fifteen head of sheep and six head of cattle, which he had fatted, realizing for the sheep $1,062.50, and for the cattle $498,12—or a total of $1,560.62.

—The Allentown Iron Company last week, had twenty-one thousand three hundred tons of iron on hand. The company put its own price on its iron during the recent decline and went out of the market, refusing to be guided in its sales by the prices which have been ruinously low.

—A Pennsylvania tombstone reads: "John L. Wilson's wife took sick on the 15 November with a chill her sickness had been dropsy and lung fever or the consumption Died June 4 1875 her age was 71 year 9 mos & 4 days her youngest brother had to HANDLE her 7 mos & 24 days and nights."

—Judge Wm. Carr, of Allentown, died nearly three years ago, aged eighty-two years. Mary Kramm, servant at the hotel where the Judge died, waited upon him for nearly three years, for which he promised her a "substantial reward," but died without fulfilling his promise. Mary brought suit against his estate and has just recovered $1,676.

—The Oxford Press says that William Hughes, of Londongrove, Chester county, raised the past season on three and five-sixth acres of land, three hundred and eighty-four bushels of corn. The ground was limed and ploughed in the fall before, and no other fertilizer was used. The corn was planted two and one-half by four feet, and two stalks to a hill.

—There are connected with the State arsenal at Harrisburg, twenty-six cannon, 15,217 muskets and rifles, 1,910 pistols and 853 sabres and artillery swords. According to the report of the Adjutant General there are 347,475 persons in Pennsylvania subject to military duty, 8,999 of whom belong to the National Guard. The number of commissioned officers is 733.

—Cyrus Kline, living near Earlville, Berks county, left home on Saturday forenoon last to make a few purchases at the store in the village. Upon leaving the store room he slipped on the ice on the porch and was precipitated to the ground some six feet, and falling on his head, received injuries from which he died the same night. He was about fifty years old and married.

—Mrs. Pollard, in the Crawford county Court, has recently recovered a verdict of three thousand dollars against the city of Meadville. The claim was for injuries received from a fall on Monroe street, where a portion of the sidewalk had been reduced to grade, leaving a step of about one foot. In passing over the place she fell and received a sprain from which she still suffers. A motion for a new trial is talked of by the defendant.

—There died in Philadelphia, last week, sixteen persons who had passed the scriptural limit of life as follows: Charles Robb, aged 80; Charles H. Haines, 80; William V. Mankin, 80; Louis Jones, 81; James Anderson, 82; Catherine May, 82; Ann Wilkinson, 82; Mary Pike, 83; Elizabeth Wilson, 83; Mary H. Inskeep, 86; Hannah Jones, 87; Mary Samuel, 87; Esther Williams, 88; Mary Alcorn, 89; Sarah Grow, 95; and Catherine McMullen, 97.

—This is the way they do it up in the "State of Greene," according to the Waynesburg Republican: "There is a woman in the west end of the county who can stand in a half bushel measure and shoulder four bushels of wheat in a wool sack. She offers to bet five dollars that she can throw down any man in Aleppo township. Another woman in the same township tackled a two hundred pound man in church a short time since, in the presence of a large congregation, because the man claimed to be a Universalist, and made him beg for mercy.

BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN

Poetry.

DON'T RUN IN DEBT.

Don't run in debt—never mind, never mind
If your clothes are all faded and torn;
Fix 'em up, make them do; it is better by far
Than to have the heart weary and worn.
Who will love you the more for the set of your hat,
Or your ruff, or the tie of your shoe,
The style of your boots or shade of cravat,
If they know you're in debt for the new?

Good friends, let me beg of you don't run in debt,
If the chairs and sofa are old;
They'll fit your backs better than the new set,
Unless they are paid for—with gold.
If the house is too small, draw the closer to gether,
Keep it warm with a hearty good will;
A big one, unpaid for, in all kinds of weather,
Will send to the warm heart a chill.

Don't run in debt—dear girls, take a hint,
If the fashions have changed since last season;
Old Nature is out in the very same tint,
And old Nature, methinks, has some reason,
But just say to your friends, I cannot afford
To spend time to keep up with the fashion;
My purse is too tight and honor too bright,
To be tarnished with such silly passion.

AN OLD SONG.

You laugh as you turn the yellow page
Of the queer old song you sing,
And wonder how folks could ever see
A charm in the simple melody
Of such an old-fashioned thing

That yellow page was fair to view,
That quaint old type was fresh and new,
The simple strain was our delight,
When here we gathered night by night,
And thought the music of our day
An endless joy to sing and play.
In our youth, long, long ago
A joyous group we loved to meet,
When hope was high, and life was sweet;
When romance shed its golden light,
That circled, in a nimbus bright,
O'er time's unwrinkled brow.

The lips are mute that sang these words;
The hands are still that struck these chords,
The loving heart is cold.
From out the circle, one by one,
Some dear companion there has gone;
While others stay to find how true
That life has cord and discord too,
And all of us are old.

'Tis not alone when music thrills,
The power of thought profound that fills
The soul. 'Tis not all art!
The old familiar tone we hear
Die not upon the listening ear;
They vibrate in the heart.

And now you know the reason, dear,
Why I have kept and treasured here
The song of bygone years.
You laugh at the old-fashioned strain,
It brings my childhood back again,
And fills my eyes with tears.

WE MUST ACT AS WELL AS THINK.

BY EDWARD CARSWELL.

What's the use of writing, or speaking, or inditing,
And wasting printer's ink;
Of penning lengthy leaders, of sending out your pleaders,
If people will not think?

And what's the use of thinking until your eyes are blinking,
Your brain with study racked?
It all will do no good (never did and never could),
If people will not act.

There's weeping and there's sighing, and many people dying,
Through alcoholic drink;
And people say, "It's true, but we don't know what to do,
And we have not time to think."

We know that Prohibition would save many from perdition;
We speak it as a fact;
And though we see them die, or for help we hear them cry;
Yet how many of us act?

Then hesitate no longer! the foe is growing stronger
The longer we delay!
But for God, and man, and right, let us rally for the fight.
Let us work as well as pray.

Our Story Teller.

"THE STORY OF MY LIFE."

Lecture by Rev. Fred. Bell, the Converted Prize Fighter—His Conversion—Fighting Against Drink—Setting Out to Preach—Interesting Incidents.

The Rev. Fred. Bell, pastor of the Park Avenue Primitive Methodist Church, of Brooklyn, lectured Thursday evening on "The Story of My Life," He had previously given his people his earlier career, and the present recitical was a continuation of his history from his conversion to the present time. Mr. Bell, it may be mentioned, is 28 years of age, and was born in Sheffield, England. He commenced his lecture by singing the hymn, "'Twas Wondrous Love," with much feeling, and proceeded:

It is hardly necessary for me to tell to you now the truthfulness of that song in my heart. Those of you who heard my last lecture well known that it was "Love, Wondrous Love," that brought me to Christ. I was converted during the singing of others; and so it is no wonder that naturally I sing, sometimes even before daylight. Well, when I was converted the news spread rapidly. I want to tell you first.

WHAT THE CHURCH FOLKS SAID.

The church I was converted in had, like nearly all churches, "old croakers." To see me converted, half wondering, especially when they began to find out who I was. One said: "You'll find that that froth he is manifesting"—they called the excitement and the shouting "froth"—"You'll find that that froth will very soon simmer down. He'll go flat enough in a few days." Glory to God! —I am not flat yet! (applause) and that was five years and nine months ago. Another said: "Look and see him two months from now, and see whether he is the genuine thing or not." Another said: "It's all very well if it lasts." So you see, my friends, I hadn't the encouragement one would have expected, not even from members of the Church. But I held out, with the help of God. When they saw that they were exceedingly glad; but it was not by any of their help, it was rather in spite of their holding aloof. But to go back to my conversion. The news spread the same night to my father. My father is the slowest man to believe anything he don't understand I ever saw in all my life. I am sorry to say he doesn't understand anything about salvation. He is a good husband, a kind father, and strictly moral, but he knows nothing of religion. When he was told of my conversion, he said: "Yes;

THAT'S A NEW FREAK

of Fred's to get money. I know him too well." (Laughter.) He didn't use the American slang phrase," says he, "over here" (pointing over his left shoulder) (Laughter.) Even my loving mother, who had been praying for me for years, when she heard of it, said: "I do hope the boy will hold out,' but it was with a wavering faith. And even my loving wife, who had in the darkest hour hoped for me—when she heard the news, before I got home, she said; "Well, he'll make a good man if he holds on." (Laughter.) Now you see the wavering faith there was among even my nearest relatives, and the lesson is, that God doesn't want you saved on somebody else's faith; but if the faith in the individual is exercised, God will honor that faith. My companions got to hear of it —my companions in sin, my darling companions—and they said: "Strange news—remarkably strange news." Some said: "He's turned Methodist,and there isn't the slightest doubt that in a few short weeks, or months, at the longest,

WE'LL FIND FRED PREACHING."

They said that in ridicule, but it became true. Up to my conversation I had led—especially the last few months—a life of dissipation. For four months prior to my conversion I was drunk almost night and day, getting up nearly as badly intoxicated as I went to bed. When I went home after my change of heart, my wife received my very kindly. We had a very poor home then, but it was as clean as she could make it. Yet, if the sheriff had come and sold it, the whole thing wouldn't have brought ten shillings, I used to come home and smash the crockery, smash the table, and put my feet on the mantel-piece, and sing "Britons never shall be slaves," when I was the greatest slave to drink on God's earth. When I went home that night I never saw such a change! Everything looked nice. I thought my wife had polished up the old furniture, and made everything as bright as she could, and she had got a meal ready very enticingly. I talked to her about my salvation as well as I could and we prayed together. Oh, how strange it seemed. Those walls that had resounded with blasphemies now resounded with stammering tongue and song. I tried to sing. She helped me. That was the first night we spent that way. I had tried to pray before, but now as a converted man. When I got up the next morning

I WAS "AWFUL THIRSTY;"

I must have whiskey. I said in my ignorance, "Can a man be a Christian and go to the public-house and drink?" My wife said, very carefully, "I guess not; but if you feel that you must have it, I will go and bring it in." Rather than have me go among my old companions, she would get it herself. "You know," said I, "I promised Mr. Gregg (the minister) that I would never have it again." A feeling came over me that I can never describe, the longing for the drink. "I will try and hold on," I said; "make me some hot coffee, make it strong, and make it good." She got it ready and we had dinner. I held out, but I passed through the horrors of hell. Mr. Gregg came to see me. It seemed of no avail. Three weeks, every day the appetite increasing, I was almost raving. At last I had to tell my wife to fasten me up in a room, and not to let me out until a certain time. She did so. I got sick. My wife became afraid. The physician came—the family physician, too, He said: "Now, look here, Fred, you've got to have a little brandy." I had made up mind by this time that I would

and I wanted to die as sober as I was then, "Oh," said the doctor, "you must taper off. If you don't, you'll die." "Then I'll die," I said. He knew I meant it. So it continued for a few days. For three weeks after I used to come down to dinner, and my wife would make ready inviting tit bits for me,but the moment I took hold of a knife or fork, it seemed a slimy serpent—the food, the table, the paper on the wall seemed turned into things hideous. At last I said to my wife: "I will have to give up and die. If religion can't do anything more for me I must die, but I'll die on the plank I have set out on." Said the, "Go down and see Mr. Gregg." I went to him, and told him exactly how things stood. We prayed together. "Go home," said he, "and let your wife pray with you that God will help you fight this battle, and you will be assisted." I was much encouraged. I went home and said: "Sallie"—I had commenced to call her Sallie then—"Sallie, Mr. Gregg says God can do everything." That thought had struck me in my simplicity. "Yes," she said, "so He can." "Well, then, can't God take away this appetite?" "Suppose we pray about it," she said. "Yes, lets pray about it." I said I wouldn't get up again until God had done the work. We got

and prayed the best we knew how. "O Lord," I said, "take away this appetite and I will do something for You." She prayed. I prayed. She prayed. I prayed. We prayed for an hour and a half. All at once a strange feeling came over me. No phenomena, mind you—no visions, but there was a feeling inside that I could not account for. I jumped on my feet and said: "Sallie, I feel so funny queer." Those were the exact words. "What's the matter?" she asked. "I don't know—I never remember feeling like this, Why, I guess the Lord has answered my prayer." From that moment to the present I have never had a desire for intoxicating drinks. God that moment took it away. I want you to honor God that He has power to take the power of drink away. Well, after that I attended the means of grace. Mother got me a new suit of clothes, the only decent clothes I had had for some time. The last I had worn were a suit of my brother's, the pants being eight inches and a half too long. (Laughter.) I went about with them doubled up. The last time I had seen my mother before that, I left her on the verge of eternity, but when she heard of my conversion she BEGAN TO GET BETTER.

In a few days she was out of bed, and in a few weeks entirely well. She had had two paralytic strokes, but my salvation made her well, from that time till to-day. Well, she got me decent suit of clothes. My brother said: "Mother, you wouldn't have done that much for me. If I had been as bad as Fred, and had cost you so much money and so much pain, you wouldn't have done that for me. I have never caused you an hour's pain. I have never been away from home." That's true. He daren't go. (Laughter.) My brother was much like my father—every moral, but—no religion, My mother had never at that time heard of the prodigal son, yet the circumstances were just the same, and what she said to him was almost the same as in Scripture: "You know all we have you are at liberty to take. Fred has been a bad lad, but he's trying to be good, and I feel it my duty to help him." You can imagine how I felt. Younger than he by three years, and he manifesting such a spirit—he who had suffered so much from my prodigality. It was almost enough to shake my confidence in God. I have also loving sisters—that is, they are loving now to me, and have been for some years. but they are in the same line as my my brother and father—

MORAL WITHOUT RELIGION.

They were high in the social scale and thoroughly accomplished. The Congregational Sunday-school of the church they attended was to have a picnic. The superintendent had sent me an invitation. I said to my mother that I was going. My sister said: "Then if he goes I shall not," and she walked out of the room. It may provoke a smile, but it cut me to the heart. I went to the picnic, and she didn't and for two years after my conversion, my sisters wouldn't be seen walking on the streets with me, though long before that I was respectable as a citizen and a Christian. If I have thanked God for one thing more than another, it is that I have passed through this ordeal, for it has made me look not to friends but to God. I went on attending meetings, and telling about my salvation, and people got to have more confidence in me. Very soon they wanted me to preach. You know in our denomination they think that as soon as a man can say "Glory!" he is good enough to preach. I could shout "Glory!" I was getting better looking since I quit whisky—the eyes more bright—lips no longer leered, face no longer bloated. They first wanted me to

PRAY IN PUBLIC.

It was a strange thing for me. I had read a paragraph in Scripture about the Lord making bare His arm, and had been much impressed. "So I said: "Lord, tuck up your shirt sleeves, pull them in by scuff ta neck." I wanted the Lord to make known His strength, and that was my way of saying it. They had me before the quarterly meeting for irreverence in the pulpit. In that country they have pulpits with winding stairs, and you haven't much room. They have generally two lamps with globes. During the first quarter I broke eleven globes (laughter), and these came against me. I didn't want to preach, but they wanted me to, at all events to say God had saved my soul. At the end of the second quarter I was to give a trial sermon before all the local preachers to see whether I would make a preacher or not. Just before this quarter expired, a most extraordinary thing occurred. I have called it my fight for Jesus.

My business—I used to keep a candy store then—increased after my conversion. You know godliness is profitable for both this world and the world to come. People would drop in to buy candy and wish me Godspeed; and I would talk to them about Jesus. I used to hawk milk, too, and people would like to take it from me, because I would deliver milk and preach Jesus at the same time. I was at this work one day, and came within a hundred yards of a public house called the "Merry Heart"—the last public house I had been in,as it happened, before my conversion, and it made me many a sad heart. I saw a navvy—that means a railroad man—come out of the house drunk. Another man, nearly sober came out too, and commenced beating him, kicking him and cutting him in the face with a rum-punch. I felt wonderfully funny about my finger-ends and about the hair. "Lord help me here," I said, "don't let me get into trouble, but I can't stand it to SEE A MAN GETTING KILLED."

I clapped the fellow on the shoulder heavily. "Look here," I said. "What do you want?" he growled. "Are you going to kick that man to death?" "What have you got to do with it?" "Well, you know fair play's a jewel." He went on kicking. Again I went to him. "Look here," I said, "if you touch that man again, you and I have got to fall out." He was a very large man, rather large to fight, but slow in his movements in that line of business. Said he: "I guess I can eat you up in about five minutes." If he had he would have been a dyspeptic before he had got through. (Laughter.) However, he pulled his coat off, and I pulled off mine. A little crowd got around, and who should come up but the superintendent of our Sunday school. He had rejoiced in my salvation, and had taken great interest in me. He was also an alderman of the city "What are you going to do?" said he. "I'm going to give this man a licking." Quite a crowd got around. "Are you ready," said the man. "I'm ready," said I. Before he was able to lift his hand, I had hit him six times in one place. (Laughter.) Before he got up I had him in as the man he had beaten. A sergeant of police was in the crowd, a good Christian man. He was horror-stricken. "Bell! Bell! Bell!" he said,and he nearly cried. "I don't want you to arrest that man," said I. I called two or three men around me, and we carried him away, and we brought him to my house. I let the milk go for that night. The man was insensible. I, with my own hands, bathed his wounds and put court plaster on him, and rendered him all the help I possibly could until he became conscious. When he came to himself—"where am I?" he asked. "All right, old fellow, you're all right." The poor man was all cut to pieces. "How did I get like this?" I related to him all the circumstances. Our home was much pleasanter by this time—a little rag carpet and everything nice. "How did I get here?" he asked. "I brought you here." "Who are you?" I was very proud then, though I hope I have got rid of much of it since. "I'm a preacher." I said, "and I thought I might as well try to save you as anybody else."

"YOU A PREACHER!"

—the man began to cry: "Why you'll be turned out of the church for fighting." "I don't care whether I get turned out of the church or not," said I. "I don't think the Lord will turn me out." The affair resulted in the salvation of the man. He had a wife and six children in Birmingham in the workhouse. He went to Birmingham, took them out,and is now an earnest, hardworking man, an active worker in the church, and a good citizen. I have every reason to believe that that battle was won for Jesus. I don't mean to say that if I saw a man in the same fix to-day I would do the same thing. I have learned another and better way. Down in the Fourth Ward of New York I have seen a crowd of turbulent men, with knives and pistols,and have been enabled by discretion at the right moment to step among them and stop the fight without my being injured or having to fight at all. I think now that I could have saved that man without beating him as I did, yet it was what I thought the best thing then. Well, there was a division among the religionists as to whether I had LOST RELIGION OR NOT.

"Oh, Bell has fallen sure," they said. "He was drunk." "He was at the 'Merry Heart' and got fighting." "I told you." "I told you." That's the way church-folks talked. "I knew he would not hold out," they said. They didn't make any allowance for my past life. Yet when they saw the salvation of the man I had fought, and that I did "hold out," they began to say they thought the end justified the means. That was my literal fight for Jesus. I will have to pass along quickly. I preached my trial sermon before four pulpit ministers and twenty-seven local preachers. I tell you I had pulpit fever. My knees began to fall out with each other when I commenced. However, God helped me,and I got through, and three souls were converted to God; and so I felt sure that God had intended that I should go and preach. After that I went out alone, for they used to send some others with me to take care of me. I suppose I needed it. They sent me to a place called Wickersley, a place where I was once picked up half dead after fighting. The man I had beaten got five or six of his companions to set on me, and they kicked me till they LEFT ME FOR DEAD.

Some of you who are unsaved and leading pretty fast lives—you have got companions that you think would do a good deal for you. Perhaps they would, but just to show what they thought of me, I'll tell you something. I used to have a great many friends. I had more influence among politicians than any other man in town,for there, just the same as here, they used to do anything to get votes. I used to get a thousand rowdies who would go and vote for the man who would give them the most money. This time, as I was telling you, that I was picked up for dead, the report went throght Wickersley that Fred Bell was killed in a fight. I heard afterwards of this conversation among the boys. "Fred Bell has got killed." "Well,now, Fred was a good fellow, wasn't he?" "Yes, he was a first rate fellow." "He could sing a first-rate song." "And he could crack a joke with any man I ever saw in my life." "And he was good at a rough and tumble fight." "Yes, so he was." "He had the biggest heart"—that was a saying among pugilists. "Yes." "If he saw a man hard up he would give him his last drink." Just then an old man, seated with a pipe, said: "Boys, it may be all true, what you have said, but for all the good he was he's

JUST AS WELL DEAD AS ALIVE."

That's what they really think about you when they come to look at it. It was to this place that I wanted to go and preach. There was a great deal of excitement when they heard I was coming. There was one man that I wanted to get hold of. His name was Jack Padley. You know in England,when they want to get a meeting,they sometimes go through the streets with bills. We did this, and announced that I was going to preach in the chapel that night. I spied Jack Padley. Said I: "Why Jack, how do you do?" "I'm first-rate, Fred." "Jack,you and I have played cards together. We have had many a good time. We've played dominoes together, and skittles, and thrown dice and been at three-card monte, and we fought. Now, Jack,why can't we go to heaven together?" Jack hung his head. "I'm going to preach to-night at the chapel, and I want you to come." "I've never been in one of them places, and I don't feel like coming in." I went to the chapel, and preached the best I knew how. I remember the text. It was: "What think ye of Christ?" After I had got through preaching, we went down into the prayer-meeting and got sinners seeking salvation. While one brother was praying,I was watching. Sometimes I watch now to see if you behave yourself. (Laughter.) So look out, some of you. But as I was watching, I looked out of the window, and,

WHO SHOULD I SEE

on a high wall but Jack Padley. "Now, Lord," I thought, "what can I do to get hold of Jack Padley?" I thought I would pray out loud for him. I guess you'll think it very strange what I said. I thought he would be very intent, and as I got warmed up, I said: "Lord, Jesus, fetch Jack Padley off that wall." When he heard his name in prayer, it gave him such a trembling that he fell off the wall and sprained his ankle, and hopped into the meeting. That man was converted, and to-day he is one of the most successful ministers that there is in this country. His conversion greatly encouraged me. In that same place, where I had been so conspicuous in sin, God gave 150 souls, and out of those 150, five are preachers of the Gospel. To get such a man, of course, added greatly to my success, and to the natural curiosity that there was about my services. Letters began to pour in to me from all parts of the country, wanting me to hold special services. I thought it my wisest course to stay where I was for a time. Still I accepted some of the calls, and I became known pretty generally in the principal cities of England. I will just mention

ONE OF MY ADVENTURES.

I was working in a city called Leicester, a place noted for infidelity. In Leicester and Northampton, I think there is more infidelity than in any other two cities of their size in England. I preached in the market place. A platform was erected, and I preached to four or five thousand people. Just a few weeks before this, Tom King, the noted pugilist —the same man who fought your American Heenan—had turned preacher, and he came to hear me preach. Of course, a lot of infidels got around me thinking to trap me in my ignorance. They asked me questions, and I began to make replies. If I had gone on, they would very soon have cornered me, but just then Tom King shouted: "Does anybody here want to fight." They all knew Tom. He was a big man—over 200 pounds—and God hadn't been as good to him as to me, for he would have turned away half-a-dozen men by his repulsive appearance alone. "Tom, be steady," I said, "be steady." Said he, "Bell, we'll fight this crowd on our knees."

"THAT'S THE KIND OF A FIGHT,"

said I, and we got on our knees. In that place hundreds of those characters were converted to God. When I had been in the new life thirteen months, I was leader of two classes, full local preacher, treasurer of a Young Men's Christian Association—they actually trusted me with money, and a good deal of it, too—superintendent of a Sunday-school, and founder of a mission. One of my classes numbered sixty—every one fresh from the devil. God continued to bless me. My success, however, aroused jealously among young men—well, it does, somehow or other. They would come to hear me, and say: "Now then, did you hear that? Do you call that grammar? Was that proper?" and so they would criticize me. If you want to criticize, you can't get a better subject for that purpose than me. Though I am pastor of a church, I don't mind saying that I don't understand a rule of grammar to-day. I know generally when I speak properly, without knowing the reason why, unless God has given it to me. And while I was in England I learned much more from my enemies than ever I did from my friends. However, I continued two years and a half in England, working night and day. My little business increased to such an extent that I for I had £80 gambling debts, owing at ale shops, and borrowed money. I put down a list of what I owed the moment I was converted. I believe in restitution, though I don't know that we have to go as far as Zacheus, and restore fourfold. I was anxious to pay everything. My father wouldn't give me work, but I found work elsewhere. It was with a man, who, though he was a professing Christian, nearly ground the life anp soul out of me. I worked for him a year, and between that and my business, I managed to get square with the world. I was preaching all I could the same time. I was able to travel on the railways without their charging me any fare, and wherever I went I preached Christ with great success. When I had been preaching over two years, I became impressed, without knowing the reason why, with the feeling that I must go to America.

PAID ALL MY DEBTS

CORRESPONDENCE.

LECTURE BY HON. SAM'L CALVIN UPON THE FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE COUNTRY.—A number of the prominent citizens of the country having by a letter addressed to Mr. Calvin requested him to meet the people at some time and place to be designated by him, for the purpose of hearing his views upon the financial condition and necessities of the Country that gentleman named Tuesday evening, 5th inst., as a suitable time, and at 7 P. M. the Court House was filled with a large, attentive and intelligent audience. On motion of Aug. S. Landis, Col. R. A. McMurtrie was called to the chair and on motion of Maj. Jno. Brotherline, J. B. Gifford of this place and D. Aurandt, Esq., of Huston Township were chosen, vice presidents, and Col. D. M. Jones, and J. P. Stewart, Secretaries. The chairman having stated the object of the meeting, introduced Mr. Calvin.

The speaker is well known as an eminent and able lawyer, having been engaged in the active practice of his profession for the past thirty-five years. He was a member of the thirty-first congress, and although never a politician in its modern acceptation, no one has given a more earnest attention to the affairs than Mr. Calvin. Some years ago he was active in behalf of such tariff laws as would protect our domestic industries but recently he has made the matter of our public finances the subject of the closest study and examination. We may safely affirm, no gentleman in this part of the State has more practical information sincere interest and careful views upon this subject than he, and accustomed as he is to the public discussion of practical questions, no one could have acquitted himself more successfully upon this all important topic than did Mr. C. on Tuesday evening, 5th.

The speaker introduced his subject by dwelling at some length upon the blessings and benefits of money, its origin, its kinds, its value, its peculiarities, its laws and its universality. That it was the great instrumentality of production and exchange. Without it these latter would be almost practically annulled. With it, they would flourish and abound, scattering blessings, comforts and wealth among the people. In proportion therefore as its supply is curtailed, in that proportion up to a certain point, will production and exchange languish, and the prosperity of the people be checked. He attributed our present distress to this as the primary cause. There not being sufficient circulating medium for the business of the country, the credit system, its natural consequence, had grown to an excessive extent, till at last, like the balloon in the high and rarified air of the empyrean, it burst, and hence our troubles. He denied that the panic was produced by inflation. He showed that at the close of the war the circulating medium of the country was about 1,000 millions of dollars, but by the government selling gold and gradual contraction, it was September 1873, exclusive of the fractional currency, reduced to 656 millions. This was the result of the government's operations for eight years and five months succeeding the war, and if inflation was the cause of the panic it ought to have occurred in 1865 when the circulation was 1000 millions and not eight years and five months after, when it only was 656 millions. If 1000 millions were not too much for the exchange of the country when the war closed, how could it ever be sufficient when the late rebellious states would require two or three hundred millions of it for their use, and when, besides, one million or more men from both armies had returned home to engage in agricultural and manufacturing pursuits?

He claimed that we should have an elastic or automatic currency. If the wants of the people demanded more circulation, that additional supply should be readily forthcoming. If, at times, it were in excess, it would, in obedience to the laws of trade, shrink into safe, funded securities. Instead of allowing the national banks to furnish the circulation he would require the government to do it. He would fund a sufficient portion of the public debt in 3-65 gold bearing bonds, exchangeable at par for greenbacks, and reconvertible in [illegible] bonus, at the option of the holder. When it is remembered we have no better security than a gold bearing bond of this government, the basis being on all the property of the country, real personal and mixed, and the promise in the bond being to pay gold, and interest likewise in gold, the greenback, which is interconvertible with this bond, will acquire its highest value as paper money; and if made receivable for government duties and customs, it will equal almost if not entirely the gold value of coin. In this way it will be seen that specie payments may in no great length of time be readily reached, and at the same time the production and exchange of the country facilitated by all the circulation they require.

This plan does not make the government a banking institution, but simply requires it to furnish this paper medium upon the basis of its own faith, just as by the Constitution it provides the metallic circulation.

The plan proposed however, by the bill just rushed through the United States Senate tends to make the national banks the banker of the nation. It retires eighty two millions of greenbacks and allows free banking. He claimed that this was the entering wedge to the retirement of all government greenbacks, and making national banknotes the currency of the country. This would work disaster. It would give the banks, in time, absolute power, and allow them to dictate to the country their own rates for money, and to hold the life of industry, commerce and prosperity in their grasp, to relax or tighten only at their pleasure. Congress has been deaf to the entreaties of the people and now when the country was starving and shivering in the general paralysis of her trade and her interest the Senate answers the cry for bread with the offer of a stone.

We have thus briefly outlined but a portion of the gentleman's lecture and regret that more time was not allowed him to complete his argument upon the various propositions contained in the resolutions, prepared and offered by Mr. Calvin. We refer the reader to the resolutions hereto appended, which were adopted at the close of the meeting as showing succinctly, and yet explicitly, Mr. Calvin's views upon this subject. He justified his argument by evidence gleaned from a wide field of observation and experience. He enriched his lecture by happy references to incidents in the history of the coutry, which recalled the ardor and anxieties of days that are past and awoke anew our slumbering patriotism. Mindful of the logic of figures, he was not forgetful of the graces of rethoric. Rich in his resources, strong and earnest in his argument and sincere and patriotic in his purpose, Mr. Calvin has both interested and gratified the public.

At the close of the meeting Mr. Calvin was informally appointed delegate to the Cleveland convention, to be held next March, to consider the question of finance.

The following are the resolutions:

Resolved, That Gold and Silver are entirely insufficient in quantity to be the exclusive basis on which to found the immense monetary and business transactions of this great country; that the banks never did and never could pay Gold and Silver for their notes much less for their deposits when demanded but always suspended; that they paid Gold and Silver only when nobody wanted them except for change and never a day longer; that the making the currency depend for its value on its pretended convertibility on demand into Gold and Silver, is therefore, a fraud and a delusion, thus absurdly assuming that Gold and Silver are the only earthly commodities having any intrinsic value; that the bond or credit of the government, is less variable and fluctuating in value than basis; that it is vastly broader and commands unbounded confidence, and is therefore a "vastly better basis."

Resolved, That the currency of this country should be based, not only on all the Gold and Silver in it, mined and unmined, but also on all its wealth, real, personal and mixed.

Resolved, That the arbitrary limitation by government of the amount of the currency in any civilized and progressive country, is the greatest conceivable absurdity and folly, because it is an absolute limitation of the amounts both of production and exchange, unless resort is had to the credit system.

Resolved, That in the past history of this country, all our panics and monetary revulsions, preceded always for some time by a high rate of interest, the ominous precursor of the coming tempest, have always been caused, not by an inflation of the currency, but by an inflation of credit, by piling at home and abroad debt upon debt, Pelion upon Ossa, till the failure of an Ohio Trust Company, or a Jay Cooke & Co., tumbled the whole bloated fabric into a mass of ruins; and that this resort to inflated credit was in 1873 and some years previous thereto, the necessary and unavoidable consequence of the arbitrary limitation of the amount of the currency.

Resolved, That the bill passed through the Senate in hot haste and now pending in the House: providing for funding 82 millions of legal tenders and supplying their place with national currency under a free banking system, as the first step in the avowed policy of the specie resumptionists of New York and New England, to fund all the legal tenders and to supply their place with national currency, and thus to fasten on the country forever the national banks as banks of issue to give to them as a bonus about 40 or 50 millions of dollars per annum instead of about twenty millions as at present for circulating a currency furnished by the government and which the government is bound to redeem, to increase that bonus, after a revival of the business of the country to sixty or seventy millions per annum, and to surrender to them a monopoly of the whole money power of the country.

Resolved, That the government should supply all the currency and receive all the benefits resulting therefrom, thus saving to it and the people that immense amount annually in taxes; that it should be based on all the wealth of the country real, personal and mixed; that it should be made a legal tender in payment of all debts including customs and duties, but excepting government bonds payable in Gold; that it should be made convertible or payable in a government bond bearing 3.65 per cent. interest at the will of the holder on presentation of $50, or any multiple of that sum at the Treasury; and that the bond should be reconvertible into legal tenders at the option of the holder.

Resolved, That this system would save for the government and people from 40 to 50 millions of dollars annually, would raise the currency to a level with Gold and Silver which would then circulate again as money; that it would give us an elastic, automatic currency which would ebb and flow according to the wants of the business of the country permitting the great law of supply and demand to regulate the amount of the currency as it regulates the amount of all other commodities; would always give us the amount of currency needed to transact the business of the country and at a low rate of interest, abolishing to a great extent the credit system, and causing business to be done in a great measure on the cash plan as it was done during and at the close of the rebellion; would enable the government without resorting to the expensive machinery of syndicates to convert our 5 and 6 per cent. bonds into 3.65 per cent. bond; would obviate nearly all the evils of our financial and monetary system, restore confidence, revive business and start this great country on such a career of developement and progress in wealth and art, and science and power as we have never known in the past.—Hollidaysburg Reyister.

[Written for the REPUBLICAN.]

NATURE'S GENTLEMAN.

He is not made up of pomp and show. "Soft raiment" and oily words are no indices by which to distinguish him. Affection is a grace alien to his accomplishment. Formality is an iceberg that would soon melt in his génial soul. Opulence and affluence might place upon his head a crown of gold and emblazon it with "diamonds of the first water," forming the word GENTLEMAN, yet nature might not own him. Even poverty with its "long train of blessings" may fail to imbue the principles of "Nature's Gentleman."

Like the little germ in the grain of corn destined under proper influences to be developed to a perfect stock, or that of the acorn to the mighty oak, the germ of grasses which make the true gentleman is planted in every child, and under congenial influences will develop to that most exalted station. This germ is the "mind" or "soul." Parents are to the little mind of the child what the grain of wheat or the acorn is to the germs contained in them, they protect, nourish and influence to a perfect or imperfect developement. The more perfect the mind, the larger the soul, the truer the gentleman.

No man can place what will make him the gentleman upon his back. No man can find it in the mines of wealth. No man can make the necessities which poverty enforces a horse to ride, by which to overtake it. Distinctions of rank in the human family, so far as this world's goods are concerned, are only conventional. But how often these distinctions are chains by which frail man is bound to the earth! At the entrance to the road on which nature's gentlemen walk stand Virtue and Morality pointing the traveler to the sun, admonishing the rich and the poor, the master and the slave that all stand on a common level up there so far as rank of wealth in worldly goods or titles make up the man. But the most perfectly developed mind, the largest soul, the most perfect gentleman this side of the sun, finds greatest favor and shines brightest in Heaven.

No other Bitters in the universe can equal them. I lack space for detailing the availability of these Bitters, but will briefly state its general effects upon the human system, as follows:

It absolutely Purifies the Blood. It speedily corrects all morbid changes in the Blood. It equalizes the circulation of the Blood. It regulates the supply and quality of the blood. It prepares the Blood to furnish a proper support to all the vital properties. It enriches the constituents of the Blood upon which the vital energy of the system is dependent. It infuses the proper degree of animal heat in the system. It purges from the system the morbid humors which retard its natural functions. It imparts vitality and elasticity to every organ of the body. It corrects all derangements, however trivial, which are the first origin of Disease. It promotes the operation of the digestive organs. It improves the appetite and removes all disagreeable feeling after eating. It perfects digestion, rendering it natural and easy. It acts as a mild and efficacious stomachic. It elevates the standard of all the vital forces. It strengthens the nervous fibres and diffuses a calm throughout the nervous system. It destroys all morbid conditions of the mind. It disperses dullness and languor. It banishes those clogs upon pleasure which produce gloom. It drives away those distressing symptoms which rob us of happiness. It revives the physical energies by infusing new life and power into the system. It fortifies the system against the dangers of malaria, fluctuations of the temperature changes in the climate, &c. In short, it prepares the system for the radical change to be wrought in its condition, and restores it to perfect health and natural vigor.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VEGETABLE FREE FROM ALCOHOL

PURELY DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

EUREKA

VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

"AN OLD REBEL."

From the Brockville (Ont.) Recorder of the 12th inst. we clip the following romantic sketch concerning Col. Wait, now associate editor of the Lumberman's Journal. Few men have had a life of more thrilling interest.

Col. Wait is brother-in-law of our townsman, John Ardell, Jr. He is now on an extended tour through Canada, the scene of his adventures, and will visit several prominent cities in the Eastern States.

The memory of 1837 and 1838, with all the stirring scenes of that eventful period, is fast passing away. Only occasionally do circumstances arise to bring back the recollection that Canada, during the years above mentioned, was in a semi-state of Rebellion. Not by any means against the crown of England, but against the injustice and tyranny of compact—"family compact" as it was called—the tyrants of that day, and by which appellation they are still known in common phraseology.

Now that peace and prosperity rule in our fair Dominion, and that every man is equal in the eye of the law, and no one man can be forced from his wife and family and thrust into prison on account of political opinions, and are not afraid to confess that the rebellion of 1837 did much for the people of Canada, and that we are now reaping good fruit from seed sown in blood, suffering, and sorrow.

But the reader will be ready to exclaim "what are you driving at." We will tell them. As we stated yesterday, we had a visit from a gentleman whose name was at one time well known in the country in connection with the rebellion of 1837. We allude to Benjamin Wait, once of Canada, now of Bay City, Michigan. This gentleman took an active part in the rebellion. He commanded a band of patriots, as they were called, at Point au Pelee, and was afterwards taken prisoner at Short Hills.

Being thus taken, he was tried as a traitor to his country, found guilty, and received a traitor's doom. Was sentenced to be hanged by the neck till he was dead. But this fate was not to be his. He had a noble wife, and to her exertions not only his life, but the life of others in the same predicament were spared. This noble woman traveled to Quebec and prayed commutation of sentence, which was granted, but the document had to be countersigned by Sir George Arthur. This gentleman Mrs. Wait met at Brockville on her way to Toronto. To him she applied for his signature, which, at first, he refused till he reached the seat of Government, well knowing that if his signature was withheld till then, the death penalty would be carried out before the document could reach Toronto. Afterwards Sir George did subscribe his name, but so late that no one expected the respite would reach the ill fated men in time to save them from death. Here, again, Mrs. Wait showed her tact. She applied for the use of Sir George's vessel but did not get an answer till another gentleman had made interest with another owner of a vessel, and seeing this noble lady was likely to carry her point in reaching Toronto, and fearing what might be said of his conduct, he gave the vessel in which Mrs. Wait was allowed a passage, and, although every exertion was made to make the voyage as short as possible. Mrs. Wait only reached Toronto, half an hour before the time appointed for the execution of her husband, but happily in time to save the execution. The sentence was then commuted to banishment for life to Van Dieman's land.

Having succeeded so well, Mrs. Wait then turned her attention to England, which country she visited and laying her petition at the foot of the throne, Mr. Wait and other patriots who had been sent with him, had further favors granted by receiving "tickets of leave" in two years, in place of the usual number, eight. Mr. Wait then set himself to earn a little money, and in six months had earned one hundred pounds. This amount was laid out in the purchase of a small boat, in which after stocking with some provisions, he left the country and put to sea in the hope of being picked up by some vessel. After being exposed to the dangers of the sea in a frail boat for twenty days he was at last taken on board of an American whale ship. This vessel was afterwards wrecked, and Mr. Wait being saved, spent eighteen months on the banks of the Amazon River. He afterwards reached the United States, where he remained without visiting Canada till the general act of amnesty was passed, which brought back Mr. Lyon McKenzie as well as Mr. Wait. Mr. Wait is now engaged as associate editor of the Lumberman's Gazette, in Bay City, Michigan.

He has been visiting Ottawa region and other lumbering localities, for the purpose of collecting statistics of the trade, in order to show how the lumber trade of the States will be effected by the passing of the proposed Reciprocity Treaty.

He says he is still heart and soul a Canadian, and will ever rejoice at the prosperity of this his native country. He appears still hale and hearty, and would no doubt be glad to pass the remainder of his days in the Dominion, and lay his body in the soil of his loved and native land.

DON'T HACK, HACK, COUGH, COUGH!

Cough is a symptom by which various diseased conditions of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs manifest themselves. But whether it arises from the irritation produced in the throat and larynx by taking cold, from an attack of Bronchitis, from incipient Consumption, or from various other causes, nothing will allay it more speedily or cure it more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It does not matter whether it be a recent attack, or a lingering cough, the Discovery is in either case equally well adapted for its relief and permanent cure. In fact, it will cure a cough in one-half the time necessary to cure it with any other medicine, and it does it, not by drying it up, but by removing the cause, subduing the irritation, and healing the affected parts. No time should be lost in commencing the use of a proper medicine for the relief of a cough, for unless this course is pursued, serious and dangerous disease of the lungs is liable to result. Golden Medical Discovery is sold by all dealers in medicines.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

—Church's Musical Monthly for February is at hand. This valuable magazine is devoted entirely to music. In the present number there is a continued story on the front page, the balance of twelve pages in choice, very interesting reading matter, much of it relating to music, giving much valuable information to all interested in this valuable accomplishment. There are also eleven pages devoted to the piano which in itself, is worth three times the cost of the book and could not be bought for that in any music store in the country. Address this Office on John Church & Co., West Fourth St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

—We have received a copy of Dr. Chase's receipt book, containing many very valuable medical and household receipts. Several years ago when we were a yankee and lived away down east a book agent came along with what he said was the most valuable book of the time. He was so very pursuasive that we bought the book. It was "Chase's Book of Receipts," and we never regretted that purchase. It was indeed all it claimed to be. We found it a most valauble friend in many a time of need. The book we have received is the same work enlarged and improved and as a matter of course made more valuable. Every family should have a copy and any person purchasing one will never regret having done so. It is worth its weight in gold. Price $2.00. Address Dr Chase's Steam Printing House, Ann Harbor, Michigan. See advertisement in another column.

THE CHRISTIAN AT WORK.—This evangelical non-sectarian, and non-sectional weekly, edited by T. De Witt Trimage, is now one of the most popular of the religious journals. The sermons each week of Dr. Talmage, and other matter from his pen, give special value to every issue. It is a live, wide-awake, active, Christian paper, whose aim is to diffuse a better spirit among Christirns of all denominations, and to promote peace and good will everywhere.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

GOLD 114¼

Notwithstanding gold is quoted at a higher premium, call loans are 2½@3 per cent and prime mercantile paper at 4@6 per cent in the Eastern cities. General dullness is waking up the Railroad companies who are beginning to find that the low rates at which they have been moving through freights, will not pay large dividends and efforts are now being made to establish paying rates as will be seen from the following article which copy from the Miners Journal.

THROUGH FREIGHTS.—The meeting of railway magnates in New York on Wednesday was evidently an effort to reconstruct the Saratoga agreement. That it was an important gathering and one which cannot fail to have an effect on the business interests of the whole country is shown by the roads represented and the men who took part in the discussion. There were present Thomas A. Scott, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad; his brother, Horace Scott; Wm. H. Vanderbilt, of the New York Central; John King, Jr., Vice President of the Baltimore and Ohio road, which bought the agreement so successfully; H. B. Herriburt, Vice President of the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and Indianapolis Railway; Amasa Stone of the Michigan Southern Railway; Asa Packer, President of the Lehigh Valley Railroad; Hugh J. Jewett, President of the Erie Railroad; ex-Governor Dennison, of Ohio, one of the Eastern Railway Commissioners, and all the Western Commissioners. There was a five hours discussion in the course of which it was charged that rates agreed upon at Saratoga had been "under-cut," and the best plans for establishing and maintaining uniform rates of through freights were considered. The gist of the conclusions arrived at is expressed in the following resolution which was offered by Col. Scott and adopted by the meeting:

Resolved, That the powers of the Bureau of Commissioners of the Western Railroads be suspended, so far as they relate to freight business, until otherwise agreed to by the managers of those lines, and that the General Freight Agents meet immediately to establish rates on eastward bound business. But that the Bureau of Western Commissioners continue their organization and their control of passenger business.

This evidently means that the western roads are to be bound by no uniform rates, but are free to compete as much as they please, while the trunk lines leading to the east will continue to hold each other in check with a uniform tariff. As most of the western lines are controlled directly or indirectly by the eastern roads, this means simply that what is lost on one will be made up on the other, and while some shippers—most probably the Pittsburg, Chicago, and Cincinnati commission merchants, will have the advantage of low through rates, local freights will have to pay for their advantages. We are greatly mistaken if the grangers do not find 'a crow to pick' with the companies in this matter, and we expect to hear a cry of dismay from the whole granger press. It will, however, give them what they ask, low through freights, and if their local roads tax them heavily; they can "flank" the local freights by buying in large quantities in eastern cities.

For the local roads themselves it is said that they have made no profits for the past two years, and it is necessary for them to raise their rates as a means of self-preservation, while it is thought that such a measure on their part will not perceptibly affect the general course of business. At the best, we can but look upon this meeting as another attempt to solve the vexed question of cheap transportation. It is an experiment, and will doubtless be superseded by still another move.

Bellefonte Markets.

BELLEFONTE, Feb. 10, 1875.

WHEAT.—The demand for wheat is still limited in this market, owing to the outlet being controlled by the Penna. Railroad, which seems to be more interested in the transportation of western grain east at low rates than in moving grain East from the interior of our own State.

RYE—There is a demand for Rye at our quotations, and notwithstanding our merchants here have been offering ninety cents for rye for several months, we learn that some farmers have sold their crops within ten miles of our town for seventy-five cents per bushel. Would it not pay such farmers if they would subscribe for the REPUBLICAN and read our market reports.

CORN.—The transactions in corn have been light since our last report and we have nothing new to offer.

OATS.—Oats are scarce and high for this market but there is very little inquiry for it.

STRAW.—Straw is scarce and is wanted for stable use. Prices are irregular. Seller and buyer make their own bargains.

HAY.—No change.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

AMERICANS ARE A NATION OF DYSPEPTICS.—We live fast, dissipate and fill early graves. We drink all kinds of alcoholic spirits, and swallow, without mastication, pork, grease, and every kind of life-destroying, system-clogging, indigestible food. Dr. Walker's Vegetable Vinegar Bitters will remove the evil effects, and the recovered patient, with pure, vitalized electrical blood flowing through his veins will have a clearer judgment, which added to experience, will cause him to abstain in the future.

CONSUMPTIVES, TAKE NOTICE.—Every moment of delay makes your cure more helpless, and much depends on the judicious choice of a remedy. The amount of testimony in favor of Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure for consumption, far exceeds all that can be brought to support the pretensions of any other medicine. Dr. Schenck's Almanac, containing the certificates of many persons of the highest respectibility, who have been restored to health, after being pronounced incurable by physicians of acknowledged ability. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many, as these evidences will show; but the cure is often promoted by the employment of two other remedies which Dr. Schenck provides for the purpose. These additional remedies are Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills. By the timely use of these medicines, according to directions, Dr. Schenck certifies that most any case of Consumption may be cured.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, Corner Sixth and Arch St., Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. 5-4t

IF YOUR horse is lame, sore or galled, you should use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment; wash the part with castile soap and warm water, rub dry, with a clean cloth, then apply the Liniment, rub in well with the hand.

Have the readers of the REPUBLICAN ever used any of Parson's Purgative Pills? If not, why not? they are the best family physic, besides being the greatest anti-bilious remedy there is in this country.

VEGETINE

PURIFIES THE BLOOD, RENOVATES AND INVIGORATES THE WHOLE SYSTEM.

Its Medical Properties are

ALTERATIVE, TONIC, SOLVENT AND DIURETIC.

Vegetine is made exclusively from the juices of carefully-selected barks, roots and herbs, and so strongly concentrated, that it will effectually eradicate from the system every taint of Scrofula, Scrofulous Humor, Tumors, Cancer, Cancerous Humor, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Syphilitic Diseases, Canker, Faintness at the Stomach, and all diseases that arise from impure blood. Sciatica, Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout and Spinal Complaints, can only be effectually cured through the blood.

For ulcers and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin Pustules, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tetter, Scald-head and Ringworm, Vegetine has never failed to effect a permanent cure.

For Pains in the Back, Kidney Complaints, Dropsy, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and uterine diseases and General Debility, Vegetine acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strenthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpatation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such perfect satisfaction as the Vegetine. It purifies the blood, cleanses all of the organs and possesses a controlling power over the nervous system.

The remarkable cures effected by Vegetine have induced many physicians and apothecaries whom we know to prescribe and use it in their own families.

In fact, Vegetine is the best remedy yet discovered for the above diseases, and is the only reliable BLOOD PURIFIER yet placed before the public.

PREPARED BY

H. R. STEVENS, BOSTON, MASS.

WHAT IS VEGETINE?—It is a compound extracted from barks, roots and herbs. It is Nature's Remedy. It is perfectly harmless from any bad effect upon the system. It is nourishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It quiets the nervous system. It gives you good, sweet sleep at night. It is a great panacea for our aged fathers and mothers; for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves, and gives them Nature's sweet sleep—as has been proved by many an aged person. It is the great Blood Purifier. It is a soothing remedy for our children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. It relieves and cures all diseases originating from impure blood. Try the Vegetine. Give it a fair trial for your complaints; then you will say to your neighbor, friend, and acquaintance, "Try it; it has cured me."

Vegetine for the complaints for which it is recommended is having a larger sale throughout the United States than any other one medicine. Why? VEGETINE WILL CURE THESE COMPLAINTS.

VALUABLE INFORMATION.

BOSTON, Dec. 12, 1869.

Gentlemen—My only object in giving you this testimonial is to spread valuable information. Having been badly afflicted with Salt Rheum, and the whole surface of my skin being covered with pimples and eruptions, many of which caused me great pain and annoyance, and knowing it to be a blood disease, I took many of the advertised blood preperations, among which was any quantity Sarsaparilla, without obtaining any benefit until I commenced taking the Vegetine, and before I had completed the first bottle I saw that I had got the right medicine. Consequently, I followed on until I had taken seven bottles, when I was pronounced a well man, and my skin is smooth and entirely free from eruptions. I have never enjoyed so good health before, and I attribute it all to the use of Vegetine. To benefit those afflicted with Rheumatism, I will make mention also of the Vegetine's wonderful power of curing me of this acute complaint, of which I have suffered so intensely.

ELECTION POCLAMATION.

COMM. OF PA., H. R.,
Harrisburg, Jan. 13th, 1875.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to B. F. Shaffer, High Sheriff of the County of Centre:

WHEREAS, By the returns of the election of the House of Representatives, held on the first Tuesday of November last past and delivered by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, it appears that S. S. Wolf was elected member of the House of Representatives for the District composed of the county of Centry; and

WHEREAS, Said S. S. Wolf died since the said election. And

WHEREAS, By the provisions of the Constitution and laws of said Commonwealth the duty has devolved upon me, as Speaker of the House of Representatives, to issue a writ of election to fill said vacancy and appoint a day for the holding of said election, now these are to notify you that I, by virtue of the authority vested, as aforesaid, in me, as Speaker of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, hereby appoint Tuesday, the 16th day of February, 1875, as the day for holding the election in the several election districts of the representative district composed of the county of Centre to fill the vacancy existing in said district, as aforesaid. And you are hereby directed to give at least ten days notice of said election and that said election shall be held and conducted according to the Acts of the Assembly in such case made and provided.

Given under my hand and seal at Harrisburg, this 13th day of January, A. D., 1875.

SAMUEL F. PATTERSON.
Speaker H. R. [L. S.]

GOD SAVE THE COMMONWEALTH.

I, B. F. Shaffer, High Sheriff of Centre County, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby make known and give notice to the electors of the county aforesaid, that an election will be held in the said county of Centre, on TUESDAY, the 16th day of February, 1875, for the purpose of electing

One person duly qualified for member of the Assembly.

I also hereby make known and give notice that the places for holding the aforesaid election in the several Boroughs and Townships within the county of Centre are as follows, to wit:

For the township of Haines, at the public house of John Limbert (Aaronsburg).

For the township of Half Moon, at the school house in Stormstown.

For the township of Taylor, at the house erected for the purpose, on the property of Leonard Merryman.

For the township of Miles, in the school house in the town of Rebersburg.

For the township of Potter, at the public house of John Odenkirk, Old Port Hotel.

For the township of Gregg, at the public house owned by J. Z. Fisher, Penn Hall.

For the township of Ferguson, in the school house at Pine Grove.

For the township of Harris, in the school house at Boalsburg.

For the township of Patton, at the house of Peter Murray.

For the Borough of Bellefonte and the townships of Spring and Benner, at the Court House in Bellefonte.

For the township of Walker, in the school house at Hublersburg.

☞ NOTE.—We earnestly desire that this department of our paper shall be made as useful as possible to our Agricultural friends, and therefore extend a cordial invitation to all parties interested, to favor us with contributions. Individuals who have made useful experiments and yet do not feel competent to write them out in form for publication, if they will favor us with the results we will take pleasure in putting them in proper shape.

BLUSH NOT, HONEST TOILER.

Oh, blush not, honest toiler!
No cause for shame hast thou,
Though horny skin be on thy hands,
And sweat drops on thy brow.
Although thy face may be begrimmed
With coal dust or with soil,
'Tis a noble mark of usefulnes;
Then blush not, sons of toil.

Oh, blush not, honest toiler!
The time will come ere long,
When right shall triumph over might,
And justice over wrong.
Respect thy worth, disgrace it not,
By any action vile;
That worth will be acknowledged yet,
Then blush not, sons of toil.

Stable Economy.

The Spirit of the Times contains some sensible remarks on stable management, which we copy:

The importance of providing comfortable buildings and plenty of food for young colts or old horses is so obvious as to lead to the conclusion that it would only have to be commended to the notice of the breeder or owner to insure its faithful execution. Warmth, pure air, cleanliness, and wholesome food, in stable affairs, are so self-evident as to appeal to the pockets of every man whose capital is invested in equine property. Extra food and care is a cheap investment on young stalk. It makes its return in superior form and early maturity. It is the rich vein that discovers untold treasures. It is almost equal to the discovery of a mine of wealth to become the breeder of first-class stock. They find a ready market and yield an abundant return upon the capital invested.

The horse barn is of vital importance to the breeder in protecting his stock from the cold storms and bleak winds of a northern climate. The stable should be well drained and perfectly ventilated. Filthy, ill-ventilated stables corrupt the atmosphere, that engenders disease and destroys the inmates. Damp stables, surrounded by stagnant pools of water affect the atmosphere around them. The effect of confined air diluted in foul stables, breathed over and over, is to create disease, such as blindness, glanders, farcy, and contagious disorders, from which the subjects seldom recover.

Apertures should be provided in the horse barn for the egress of foul air and the ingress of pure air. Nature has provided means to purify the stable and preserve from permature decay its valuable inmates. Foul air becomes lighter than pure air and rises to the upper regions, where windows are provided for its escape, and the pure air rushes in to supply its place.

Nutritious food and stable management are the prime causes of success in the art of breeding. In raising good colts, the food that enters into the composition of flesh and blood has much to do with the future value of the horse. Hard food makes hard flesh. Colts should be fed on that kind of food that contains the most of constituents of bone and muscle. The idea that has gained credence in the unsophisticated mind that grain spoils the young colt, is a fatal delusion in stable economy. If they ever require grain it is in the winter, after they have been weaned from their mother's milk. Among the cereals, oats are the best calculated to make firm flesh and solid bone. These should be fed alternately with roots to regulate the bowels and supply the natural waste of the body. Young colts require roots in the winter as well as summer, if fed on nutritious food. Cut straw or hay, mixed ground meal, will save about one third of the cost of keeping, and is the most economical food for the slow work horse. It is not adapted to fast work, except as an alterative to open the bowels and prevent constipation. It softens the flesh, relaxes the muscles, and is not therefore suited to horses used for fast driving. The amount of grain required to keep the medium sized horse in good condition, at moderate exercise, is about ten quarts of oats per day, or its equivalent in other cereals. The addition of ten pounds of hay would constitute their daily allowance These rations must be increased or diminished according to the size of the horse, and agreeably to the labor performed. The most rational standard of feeding is to apportion out their feed according to the weight of the subject to be fed. Let two per cent, of their live weight in hay and grain constitute the aggregate measure of their daily allowance.

Horses taken up from rest, after a run to grass, or a lie over in the yard, are soft and weak from relaxed muscles. They require gradual hardening of flesh and limb to recover solid condition for service. Hard work on soft flesh and weak legs tends to impair the joints and destroy the constitution.

Exercise, sweating and grooming form the artificial cultivation by which the expert increases the physical powers of the horse. It clears the wind, hardens the muscles, and increases the artificial circulation, and secures the utmost health and vigor to perform wonderful tasks without danger to life or limb.

When the horse comes in at night, tired and dripping with sweat, he should be well rubbed down and treated to a good bed of straw, that he may lie down and rest. It will prevent fevered feet and swelled legs, and leave him in condition to repeat his task the next day.

The horse is subject to be stalled off from over-feeding, over-tasking, ill-usage and other causes. When this happens, a run out on the grass will prove the best medicine. It will often restore them to health when all other remedies fail.

Good quality of upland hay and clear, plump grain are always the cheapest to feed. Mow-burnt hay or musty oats are dear at any price. The best food is the most economical. Decayed vegetable food is liable to introduce disease into the stables; which may destroy the most precious subjects. It is poor economy to feed musty hay or grain at the risk of health when it does not contain sufficient nutriment to keep the horse in good working condition.

Which Breed Eats the Most.

A correspondent of the Poultry World makes the following sensible remarks on this often mooted question:

This question has been asked and answered many times, but nowhere as yet, in print, have I seen it to my satisfaction. Writers invariably, try to solve this question so as to make it an argument for some particular breed, and that one is generally the breed in which they are most interested. Another reason is that they are constantly giving the favorite coop of fowls all the tit-bits, which they do not count as anything. But to answer the question rightly, would be to say, the hen that eats the most, as a rule, is the one that produces the most. One bushel of corn, or its equivalent in other food, will make nine pounds of dressed poultry, or twelve and one-half pounds of eggs. One has only to weigh his pullet at six months old to know how much money he has expended for her, and if he has not furnished the feed, he will know just how much she has foraged off his neighbors for his benefit. Most farmers have a feeling that the corn which is fed to fowls is thrown away, and that their pocket books have been depleted so much. He should rather look upon the transaction as just so much grain exchanged for eggs or poultry, the profits of which are coming to him, to better fill that pocket book.

Fowls are machines to produce eggs and flesh, and we might as well expect cloth from a factory that had no wool or cotten as to expect eggs from hens not supplied with food. When I see an unusually hearty hen, I am led to say, "Put it in, my lady, you are either making eggs or meat," and I know as long as she does it I shall not be in the strait of the boy who was after the woodchuck on a Sabbath morning, who said he had "got to have him, for we are out of meat." Liberal feeding means liberal profits; fowls scantily fed pay scanty profits; neglect means loss of what you do give them. As a rule, feed well or kill the flock. This should be the rule for the results are as sure to follow as a day is sure to follow sun-rise.

THE education of a girl, as a house-keeper, should be begun early by her mother, continued until the marriage of the daughter, and no other duty of the mother, and no other study of the daughter, should interfere with it. This and school education should go on simultaneously. If anything is to be postponed, let it be music, and drawing, and philosophy, which, as experience shows, are usually unattained to and unpracticed after the "happy event." The more and higher education the better. But let us have a real and practical instead of a sham education.

WHAT ALCOHOL WILL DO.—It may seem strange, but it is nevertheless true, that alcohol, regularly applied to a thrifty farmer's stomach, will remove the boards from the fence, let cattle into his crops, kill his fruit trees, mortgage his farm, and sow his fields with wild oats and thistles. It will take the paint off his buildings, break the glass out of his windows and fill them with rags. It will take the gloss from his clothes and polish from his manners, subdue his reason, arouse his passions, bring sorrow and disgrace upon his family, and topple him into a drunkard's grave. It will do this to the artisan and the capitalist, the matron and the maiden, as well as to the farmer; for, in its deadly enmity to the human race, alcohol is no respecter of persons.

A minister asked a tipsy fellow, leaning up against a fence, where he expected to go when he died. "If I can't get along any better than I do now," said he, "I shan't go anywhere. I'll stay where I am!"

Ayer's

Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Among the great discoveries of modern science, few are of more real value to mankind than this effectual remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does surely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best citizens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that CHERRY PECTORAL will and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attacks of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.

Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confidently relied upon as possessing all the virtues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as memorable as the greatest it has ever effected.

MEDICAL.

CHEROKEE REMEDY.

THE GREAT INDIAN DIURETIC.
INFINITELY SUPERIOR TO BUCHU.

Nine tenths of the human family suffer, directly or indirectly, at one time or other, from diseases or irregularities of the generative system, while the victims of indiscretion, and of quack treatment, are comparatively numerous.

The idea that patients cannot treat themselves successfully in these cases, has long ago been exploded. A good and reliable medicine, prepared by an experienced physician, from the original Indian Recipe, that is guaranteed to effect a can be as safely relied upon as the prescription of the most skillful practitioner. Such a medicine is the celebrated

CHEROKEE REMEDY.

Full directions accompany each bottle, and if they are carefully followed, a quick and permanent cure is guarranteed. Price $2.00 per bottle.

THE CHEROKEE INJECTION, should always be used in conjunction with the Remedy for both incipient and obstinate cases of Gonorrhœa. Price $2.00 per bottle.

CHEROKEE CURE

for seminal weakness (spermatorrhœa), is a simple vegetable medicine that was used for many years in the practice of the physician who first gave the remedy to the public. It has effected cures that would scarcely be credited except on ocular evidence of the fact. Full directions, with pamphlet containing all particulars of symptoms, treatment, &c., accompany each bottle. Price $2.00 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

CHEROKEE PILLS.

These Pill are prepared expressly for the cure of those irregularities to which ladies are subject, and will be found safe, reliable and effectual, for the cure of Suppression, Green Sickness, Pain in the Back, Hysteria, Sick Headache, &c., &c. Price $1.00 per box.

Heimstreet's Hair Restorative,

OR INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING.

NOT A DYE.—Heimstreet's "Hair Coloring is not a Dye, and its operation is not by any chemical effect, but by a natural restoration of the glands, thus giving the hair the color it originally had.

NATURALNESS.—When the hair is dyed, its color is leaden hued and unnatural, but when restored by HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING, its appearance is so perfectly natural that no one can detect the use of any Restorative.

STAINLESS.—While the Restorative acts promptly on the hair, it leaves no stain or mark whatever on the skin. It is composed of ingredients that form a perfect dressing as well as a coloring, so that no oils, &c., are necessary.

THIS MOST EFFECTIVE of all the Hair Restorers is for sale by all druggists at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Numerous certificates from those who have used it are in the possession of the proprietors.

PARK'S BALSAM

OR

WILD CHERRY AND TAR.

BALSAM.—Nothing is more soothing to the irritated membranes than the pure BALSAMS of which this medicine is composed.

WILD CHERRY.—The true bark of Wild Cherry is an unfailing specific for all throat and pectorial diseases.

TAR.—The wonderful healing properties of Tar when united with the other ingredients, render PARK'S BALSAM the most efficient Cough Medicine ever offered to the public.

CONSUMPTION.—The many cases of Consumption that have been cured justify us in the assertion that it is the very best medicine for that disease ever discovered.

CERTIFICATES OF CURES.

STEPHEN FISK, of New York, says his daughter had consumption, and terbucles had formed in her lungs. He was induced to try Park's Balsam, which effected a speedy cure.

T. EDWARD FLEET, of Brooklyn says, I think it is the best medicine for affections of the lungs I ever used.

G. S. FANCHER, of New York says, I feel fully persuaded that Park's Balsam has saved my life.

We have in our possession hundreds of certificates from others, and all of the same cheering import. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere.

Address all orders to JOHN F. HENRY, CURRAN & CO., 8 and 9 College Place, New York.

EGYPTIAN

Rat and Vermin Destroyer

FOR EXTERMINATING RATS, MICE, WATER BUGS, ROUCHES, RED ANTS, &c.

STRENGTH.—When a Rat tastes the Egyptian Destroyer, his death warrant is signed, sure. It cannot fail to kill. It also creates great thirst, and the rat will search for water out of doors, and not die in his hole, to cause a stench that cannot be got out.

ATTRACTIVENESS.—Rats are the shrewdest of vermin. It is hard to get them to eat poison. An ingredient in the Egyption Destroyer is a perfect bait, and they are attracted rather than freightened be it. "Rats (not children) cry for it.

KEEPING SOFT.—People know how the ordinary Rat Pastes dry up and become useless, causing annoyance and loss. The Egyptian Destroyer is fully warranted to keep soft, fresh and effective in any climate for years.

SURE DEATH.—The Egyptian Destroyer kills every time. Hundreds of unsolicited testimonials are now in the hands of the proprietors, substantiating its great merits as the best preparation for destroying Vermin in the world. Be sure and ask for the "Egyptian," and take no other.

Put up in large glass bottles. Price, 25 cts. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

MEDICAL.

Wright's Rejuvenating Elixer.

For the restoration of Nature's forces. It gives new life and vigor to the aged, and causes the blood of youth to course through the veins. It effectually cures Impotency, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Muscular Power, Low Spirits, Disorganization of the Generative Organs, and all the train of ills that follow in the path of the transgressor of Nature's laws. Price $2 per bottle.

It will be readily understood that in the brief space afforded by the advertising columns of a public print, it is impossible to give all particulars of the diseases that may be cured by the CHEROKEE MEDICINES. That they are destined to become immensely popular is plainly obvious in consequence of their

GREAT INTRINSIC MERIT.

The pamphlet and circulars that accompany the medicines give all the information which cannot be given here, and the remedies may be had of any respectable druggist.

AT PRIVATE SALE.

A valuable farm containing 215 acres, situate within one mile of Milesburg, and three miles of Bellefonte, at the junction of the Bald Eagle Valley and Snow Shoe railroads, near the depot, Schools, Churches, Post office, Mills, etc. The lands are FREE from STONE, level, well fenced, and under a good state of cultivation. A valuable vein of is on the farm, and a village is growing up around it, which gives a fair prospect of an increase in value before long. The Philipsburg turnpike runs through it for a distance of ¾ of a mile rendering a large strip on each side available for house lots, from which the entire price of the farm might be realized, lots having sold heretofore for $100 apiece. The farm is well watered, having water in all the fields, good wells at the house and barn with pumps all in good order. There also are 50 acres of good

PINE AND OAK TIMBER.

The land has a southern exposure and is therefore very early. There are two houses on the farm, both facing the turnpike. One containing five rooms on the first floor with Hall and five on the second and back Kitchen, with room over-head. Connected with this house is a good log barn, ice house and other out buildings. On the other side of the road is the other house containing eight rooms with good barn and out buildings. This farm could be divided into two parts, and, will be if purchasers so desire, making one containing 150 acres with the large house, and the other containing 36 acres with the small house. Terms easy. Inquire of James L. Sommerville, or R. T. Downing, or at the office of the Bellefonte REPUBLICAN.

HAVE YOU TRIED

JURUBEBA?

ARE YOU

Weak, Nervous or Debilitated?

Are you so Languid that any exertion requires more of an effort than you feel capable of making?

Then try JURUBEBA, the wonderful tonic and invigorator, which acts so beneficially on the secretive organs as to impart vigor to all the vital forces.

It is no alcoholic appetizer, which stimulates for a short time, only to let the sufferer fall to a lower depth of misery, but it is a vegetable tonic acting directly on the liver and spleen.

It regulates the Bowels, quiets the nerves, and gives such a healthy tone to the whole system as to soon make the invalid feel like a new person.

Its operation is not violent, but is characterized by great gentleness; the patient experiences no sudden change, no marked results, but gradually his troubles

"Fold their tents, like the Arabs,
And silently steal away."

This is no new and untried discovery, but has been long used with wonderful remedial results, and is pronounced by the highest medical authorities, "the most powerful tonic and alternative known."

ELAINE

AS AN ILLUMINATOR.

WHY IT IS THE SAFEST.

ELAINE will not explode while burning in a lamp, nor in any other way, as it does not contain any of the explosive compounds so frequently met with in the ordinary oil for illuminating. A lamp, filled with ELAINE, if upset or accidently broken, will not explode or burn. There is no position in which you can put a lamp filled with ELAINE, for common use, in which it will explode. As no other illuminator has such advantages of safety, ELAINE IS CERTAINLY THE SAFEST FAMILY ILLUMINATING OIL KNOWN.

——The Baltimore Opera Cigar has been enlarged in size but still sells at the same low prices of 5 cents 6-3t.

——The dry-goods and general merchandize store of the late S. S. Wolf, at Centre Hall is advertized for sale.

——The Lock Haven Gas Company, has wisely imitated the example set them by Bellefonte, and lowered the price of gas fifty cents per thousand feet.

——Mr. Jas. A. Leyden, with the pupils of his school gave an exhibition in the church at Shiloh on Friday evening last, which was creditable to teacher and scholars.

——Boards of school directors will please take notice that the superintendent of common schools has announced his intention to withhold the annual appropriation from all such school districts as do not publish an annual report.

Lost.—On Saturday, January 2nd about noon, either in Bellefonte or on the road leading from Bellefonte to the State College, a new, dark-blue beaver frock coat, suitable for a good sized man. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving it at this office. tf.

——Geo. F. Miller, Esq., president of the L. C. & S. C. railroad has advertized for letting contracts to complete eight sections of the above road. Mr. Miller says: "the bidders are requested to state in their proposals the price asked by taking one-half in Bonds of the Company and the other half in cash; and also the price of all paid in cash." This is encouraging.

Poetic.—After our borough police got through with their little difficulty with the courts, last week, one of them was heard to express himself in the following poetic language:

I want to be a police
And on the corners stand;
A star upon my bosom,
And a warrant in my hand.
I'll stand and roll my eye-balls,
And the passing faces scan,
I'll follow a Spring Townsniper
E'en through the Planing-mill dam.

——A masquerading party came to the residence of Mr. William Tripple, on Spring street, last Friday evening, and taking possession of the house proceeded to enjoy themselves. Mr. Tripple and his hospitable lady soon recovered from their surprise, and made everybody comfortable and happy. The gay crowd of visitors spent a very pleasant evening and all went merry as a marriage bell.

House Burned.—A frame dwelling house, situated above the railroad station at Milesburg, owned by Mrs. Brownell, and occupied by Mr. Emanuel Schroyer, was entirely destroyed by fire on last Friday afternoon between two and three o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Schroyer were away from home at the time; but the neighbors succeeded in saving all the furniture and goods on the first floor, all the rest being destroyed. The building was fully insured in the Lycoming Mutual.

Postponed.—Owing to the serious illness of the wife of Rev. Thomas Guard of Baltimore, that gentleman was unable to leave home and consequently could not fulfill his engagement to lecture in the Court House on Thursday evening last. A good many tickets had been sold and there was a general disappointment at his not coming. We are informed by Rev. Mr. Smyser that a future day will be fixed for the lecture and the tickets sold will be made good as soon as Mr. Guard can leave home.

——Captain W. P. Dale, of the vicinity of the State College, showed us on Wednesday last a model of an invention of his own, called the "Acme Cultivator." It is a contrivance for cultivating corn and is quite a simple and ingenius concern, having many advantages, it is claimed, over all other implements for cultivating corn. The operator can either ride or walk; and with his foot direct the shovels so as to suit the row, pass over obstructions, and wind around generally without damaging the growing stalks. Messrs J. M. Thompson and Robert Gardner have bought the right for this county. We advise farmers to examine this valuable invention before they buy any other.

Elections in February.—The Spring elections in our county have heretofore been held in March. An article in section third of the New Constitution provides that "all elections for city, ward, borough and township officers for regular terms of service shall be held on the third Tuesday of February." It will be seen, therefore, that the election throughout the State will hereafter have to be held on the third Tuesday of February. The following sections from the New Constitutions are therefore most important:

Every male citizen, twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at the elections:

First—He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

Second—He shall have resided in the State one year (or if, previously having been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the State, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election.

Third—He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote, at least two months immediately preceding the election.

Fourth—If twenty-one years of age or upwards he shall have paid within two years a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months, and paid at least one month before the election.

——By reference to another column, it will be found that the Bellefonte Library Association has, at last, been established upon a permanent basis. This would have been accomplished sooner, had not Governor Curtin been absent from town during the greater part of the last two months. Since his return, all the preliminary work has been completed; and we are assured that the rooms will be furnished and the association in working order within a month of the present time. The rooms selected, in Humes' new block, are centrally located, and admirably suited to the wants of the association. We have not space to reproduce the constitution adopted, as we would like to, because it gives a clear statement of the entire plan. We, however, might epitomize the ends proposed as follows:

1. A free reading room, open to all who will conform to a few simple regulations.

2. A public library for the use of members.

3. A news room where may be found all daily, weekly and monthly prints, that may be desired.

4. A head-quarters where persons, having leisure, can find pleasant and profitable recreation.

5. An attractive, elevating resort, free from vicious associations and influences.

The Martha Washington Tea Party.—The lads and misses of Miss Emily Natt's Sunday school class, gave a "Martha Washington tea party" at the Bush House on Friday evening last. The proceeds were for the benefit of the St. John's Episcopal church, and as there was a large number of people present they must have realized a considerable sum of money. The little folks deserve credit for the successful and pleasant manner in which everything passed off. The dining room was pleasantly decorated with festoons of flags, and groups of pictures — the Washington family preponderating. The rows of tables were handsomely ornamented and richly spread with eatables. The bill of fare was quite complete, and if the Father of his country and family could have looked in upon the little Georges and Marthas, who, in their continental costumes, flitted around among the tables, serving the guests, they would no doubt have been delighted with their youthful prototypes.

Head Quarters.—The head quarters for first class groceries is at Sechler & Co's., in the Bush House block. This firm excels all other similar establishments in the county in the following particulars:

1st—In the quantity of goods always kept on hand.

2d—In the quality of goods—always the best; no damaged articles sold.

3d—They receive goods every day, and everything of a perishable nature is only offered for sale when fresh and palatable.

4th—They have but one price for every article sold. Children can buy with as much safety as grown people.

5th—You are waited upon by polite and gentlemanly clerks, who are always ready to accommodate.

——The weather was so very cold yesterday that it became a necessity to close the borough public schools. There are nine rooms in the Stone Building that are heated by two of Reynold's Heaters, and, although they ordinarily keep the apartments in a comfortable condition yet yesterday was so terribly cold that it was impossible to get the temperature of the rooms, much above thirty degrees, which is decidedly too low for either comfort or health. The schools will resume as soon as the weather moderates.

Lost.—On Wednesday, Jan. 20th between Bellefonte and Milesburg, or in Bellefonte, a large double shawl, with blue-gray border, bars blue and brown with brown border. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving it at this office or with R. L. Shirk, at Milesburg. v7no5-tf ——The Farmers, Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Centre county at their annual meeting on the 11th of January, elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing year: President, Geo. Buchanan; Vice Pres't. Henry Kelley; Treasurer, Henry Witner; Secritary, D. F. Lose.

——Mr. George J. Eldred, of Hamburg, has been reapponted Deputy Master of the Clinton county granges. If such responsible positions in every county, were filled by men of as much character and ability as George Eldred, the Patrons of Husbandry would be vastly stronger and more influencial.

——At a debating society the other evening, an excited speaker shouted, "Who wrote the Declaration of Independence? who planned the battle of South Mountain? who slept with Solomon and made a draft of the Temple at Jerusalem? Who, when a boy, played marbles with Thomas Jefferson and wheeled the mud to make the Democratic party?" "Wm. K. Alexander!" shrieked a startled but precocious auditor.

Spring of 1875.—A full assortment of new fashionable Woolens for men's wear, are just being received at Montgomery's No. 7. Brockerhoff Row. Prices range, in Pantaloons from $7,50 to $14; Suits from $25 to $50; Spring Overcoats from $15 to $40. These prices compare with any fine Merchant Tailoring establishment in Pennsylvania, and are reduced to suit the demands of the times, Hats, Caps and Furnishing goods are selling very low, Silk Hats $5.

The Township Elections.—It should be remembered that the municipal elections are fully as important as any other. On Saturday next both parties will place in nomination men to be voted for on the following Tuesday (Feb. 16th) to supply the annual vacancies occurring in township offices. Both parties should nominate their best men and political prejudices should be ignored entirely at the polls. The organization of election boards should receive particular attention. The judge, the two inspectors and the assessor, should be chosen from the best men in the district. The less that politics has to do with the election of school directors the better.

——John A. Woodward, Esq., eminent agriculturist of Howard, was the leading spirit of a jolly sleighing party that spent a pleasant evening at the Brockerhoff House on Thursday evening last, in company with a number of ladies and gentlemen of this place. The fact that Mr. Woodward is president of the County Agricultural Society, and that he was president of the last two Democratic county conventions, is no bar to that other fact that he is a genial gentleman and a valuable citizen; and although our friends of the Watchman advise him to get posted on the rules of the Democratic party before he presides over another convention, we believe it is generally understood that his rulings satisfied everybody else.

Internal Revenue.—John H. Burrows, Esq., collector for this, the Eighteenth District, which is composed of the counties of Centre, Clinton, Lycoming, Potter and Tioga, has made public the following statement of revenues collected during the year 1874:

Distilled Spirits	$ 6,880.30
Beer	8,501.67
Cigars	13,210.87
Special Taxes	21,320.84
Other Sources	1,396.83
Total	$72,410,65

——Here is something, again, that should be more generally known. It is said that bed bugs will live a whole year without air or food if placed in a hermetically sealed bottle. Persons who desire to keep their bed bugs through the winter without feeding them will do well to remember this. Thus science assists the most humble.

——The members of the Bellefonte Library Association met in the rooms of the Town Council on Saturday evening, February 7th, for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization. A magority of the original contributors were present and a goodly number of subscribers.

An organization was effected by calling Mr. John Irwin Jr. to the chair, and electing D. H. Hastings, Secretary.

The committee appointed at a previous meeting to confer with the original contributors, reported that the amount subscribed to defray the annual expenses of the association was sufficient; and that, in accordance with their instructions, they had prepared the constitution, which was ready to be submitted for the consideration of the association. After reading, altering and amending the constitution, it was adopted. Among its provisions are the following: Name, Bellefonte Library Association; object, the promotion of the social and literary culture of its members; any male resident of the county may become a member of the Association on payment of five dollars if of suitable age and approved by the board of managers; the board of managers shall consist of thirteen members of the Association who shall be elected annually, and shall have control of the Library Room, and general management of the Association.

A committee, consisting of Messrs. Daniel Rhoads, P. B. Wilson and Adolph Loeb, appointed at a previous meeting to report on rooms suitable for the use and occupancy of the Association, submitted their report. After some deliberation, the Association decided to rent three rooms from E. C. Humes, Esq., situated on the second floor of Humes new block, five doors west of the Post Office. The Association next proceeded to the election of a board of managers to serve for the ensuing year. John Irwin Jr, E. C. Humes and D. H. Hastings, were appointed a committee on nominations. Twenty six members of the Association were placed in nomination, after which an election was held in accordance with the requirements of the canstitution. The following named persons were elected:

Hon. Andrew G. Curtin, Daniel Rhoads, E. C. Humes, John Irwin Jr. James A. Beaver, Adolph Loeb, D. H. Hastings, Isaac Mitchell, Wm. P. Wilson, Adam Hoy, D.S. Keller, James L. Sommerville and Edmund Blanchard. A meeting of the board of managers was called for Monday evening February 8th, after which the Association adjourned.

John Irwin, jr. President.

Attest. D. H. Hastings, Secretary.

——A meeting of the Board of Managers of the Bellefonte Library Association, was held in the Town Council room on Monday evening last, February 8th. All the members of the board were present. Adam Hoy, Esq., was elected president pro tem. After reading the minutes of the general meeting of the members of the association, held on Saturday evening last, and transacting other preliminary business, the following officers were elected:

President, Hon. Andrew G. Curtin; Vice President, John Irwin, Jr.

Messrs. A. Loeb, Isaac Mitchell and D H. Hastings were appointed a committee to prepare by-laws.

A committee consisting of Messrs. E. C. Humes, Daniel Rhoads and D. S. Keller were appointed to nominate suitable persons to fill the offices remaining vacant; committee to report at next meeting of the board.

On motion of Mr. Hoy, the president and vice president, together with Messrs. Lobe, Humes and Blanchard, were appointed to furnish the rooms of the association.

On motion of James L Sommerville it was resolved to call in one fourth of the original subscriptions on the first day of March next.

The board then adjourned to meet on Saturday evening, February 13th next.

D. H. Hastings, Secretary.

Serious Accident.—Our over-the-way hebdomidal of last week contains the following: A fearful accident occurred to Mary, William and James Kline, formerly of Bellefonte, while driving over Coal Hill, from Mount Washington Allegheny City, on Thursday night of last week. They were in a carriage, and it being icy, were thrown over the precipice, three hundred feet high, the horses rolling clear on to the track of the Pan Handle railroad and being instantly killed, while the carriage was broken into many pieces. It is a miracle that the entire party were not killed out-right, but strange to say, William escaped entirely unhurt. Mary was badly hurt on the head and about one of her henches, and can now stand only when helped on to her feet. James was also badly hurt, but is now able to be about the house. Happily, the physician says there is nothing dangerous about the wounds, and the patients are getting along as well as they can. The Kline's formerly lived in Bellefonte, and will be remembered by many of the people.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The recent week of the January court commenced on Monday, Feb. 1st. His Honor, Judge Mayer, presided during the week which was devoted exclusively to the trial of civil causes.

The first case tried on Monday was that of R. R. Bridgens vs. J. B. McWilliams, No. 222 Nov. term, 1872. It was an action of assumpsit on two promisory notes, for $500 each, given by the defendent to S. G. Wright, for a brick machine, and sold by the latter to Mr. Bridgens, who testified that he paid full value for it. There was no defence up, and judgment was rendered for plaintiff for $1,145,21. Alexander for plaintiff; Furst for defendent.

Samuel B. Wyland vs Wm. Leckly of No. 60 Aug. term, 1873, was an equitable ejectment to recover the purchase money on a lot of ground situated in Central City, in this county, and sold by the plaintiff to defendent in 1871. The defence was that the purchase money was not due, but court decided that under the contract of sale one payment was due, and directed a verdict for the plaintiff for $216. Beaver for plaintiff; Furst for defendent.

Tuesday, Feb. 2.

Jos. Robinson vs Gideon Wheelend, was an action of assumpsit for money paid by the plaintiff in the order of the defendent. There was no defence and a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff for $343,25 with interest. Beaver for plaintiff; Alexander for defendent.

The case of the First National Bank of Huntingdon vs Joseph Green, No. 50 April term, '71, was then put on trial. This was an action of assumpsit on a promisory note given by E. A. Green & Co. to the order of Etneir & Faust, for $2610, on which there has been a payment of $1128, leaving a balance of $1765, which, with interest from Nov. 13, 1871, was claimed in this suit. Etneir & Faust, merchants trading at Mill Creek, had transferred this note to the First National Bank of Huntingdon, who had brought suit upon it, but it was afterwards retransferred to the original parties, with the privilege of continuing the suit brought in the name of the bank.

E. A. Green & Co. were engaged in the iron furnace business at Mill Creek, Huntingdon county, from 1863 till 1868 or 1869, when they failed, and it is claimed, left a large amount of unpaid debts. It was sought by the plaintiffs in this action to charge Joseph Green, the father of Edward A. Green, as a partner of the latter, and a member of the firm of E. A. Green & Co. Joseph Green is the only alleged member of the firm who is a resident of this county. On the part of the defence it was claimed that the actual partners were E. A. Green and George Eby, that Joseph Green was merely employed as a book-keeper by the firm. A large amount of testimony, oral and documentary, adduced on the part of the plaintiffs, of acts and declarations of Jos. Green, which it is claimed tended to prove either he was a partner, or that he had represented himself as such, and therefore liable to the defendents for the credit they had given the firm on the faith of such representations and the responsibility of the defendent. The case was thoroughly and ably tried, both on the part of the plaintiffs and the defendents, and by the able counsel from Huntingdon county and those resident here. The taking of evidence occupied the time of the court from Tuesday until Friday afternoon about three o'clock. Mr. Alexander then spoke for plaintiff, and Mr. Baily for the defendents, after which the court adjourned. An evening session was held, at which addresses to the jury were made by Messrs. Blanchard for the defendent and Woods for the plaintiff, which concluded the argument of the cause, when the court adjourned for the day. The speeches of counsel on both sides are characterized by thoroughness, earnestness, and no inconsiderable degree of eloquence. The Huntingdon attorneys, Messrs. Woods and Baily, proved themselves thorough, efficient and eloquent lawyers, while the resident counsel, Blanchard and Alexander did themselves much credit for their efforts on this occasion. Mr. Furst did not speak on the summing up of the case to the jury, but exhibited his usual ability in the conduct of the trial.

On Saturday morning Judge Mayer charged the jury at considerably length, his effort being an unusually clear and comprehensive one. The jury then retired for deliberation and returned with their verdict on the reassembling of the court after the noon intermission. They found for the defendent. It is said that this case will be taken to the Supreme Court, and that a number of other suits, involving nearly the same questions as were at issue in this case, will be brought against the same party. Besides the counsel mentioned above, Mr. Bower was engaged for the plaintiff. No other cases were tried at this term of court. An adjourned term of court was fixed to commence the second Monday in March.

The above case excited an unusual degree of interest, and it is the general impression that the verdict of the jury was at just one.

The Philipsburg Fire.—A destructive fire on last Wednesday evening, destroying, $10,000 worth of property in a few hours. Among the losses are the Williams House, valued at $4,000 uninsured; McKinnie's store, valued at $4,000, insured for $2,000; Hugh Adam's house, valued at $2,500, insured for $1,800.

The fire originated in the shoe room of McKinnie's store, which adjoined the kitchen of the William's House, and between these two rooms was the flue from which the fire is supposed to have caught.

At one time during the progress of the fire, it was feared that the entire lower part of the town would be consumed, and Tyrone was telegraphed for assistance. Shortly after, the flames were gotten under control, and the Tyrone fire department, although ready to come to the rescue, was notified that help was not needed. During the progress of the fire, a considerable amount of store goods were stolen from Mr. McKinney. In doing valuable service, Messrs. Alexander Watson, G. H. Zeigler, W. Heimach and John Bordream received injuries, fortunately none of them fatal.

——It is a difficult matter to make a newspaper interesting when the weather is so awfully cold that a person has to thaw out his lead pencil before he can do any writing.

——Last week's local page of the Philipsburg "Journal" was the best we have yet seen, and we must congratulate Mr. Ellsworth as a news gatherer and constructionist.

——Selling woolen goods and hosiery at very low prices, at Mrs. N. K. Dare's; corsets 50 cents.

——Just received a spendid assortment of Hamburg edging, and inserting at the very lowest prices. Call at N. K. Dares.

Strange but True.—It is natural for people suffering with Consumption, Coughs, Severe Colds, or any other disease of the Throat and Lungs, to put off from day to day buying an article that they know has cured their neigbor, friend, or relative, yet they have no faith in it until it is too late. If you will go to your Druggist, F. P. Green, and get a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup, your immediate cure is as certain as you live. It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and Druggists and people everywhere are elated over its success. You can get a sample bottle for 10 cents and try it. Regular size bottle 75 cents.

——One day last week, a son of John Hoy, Esq., of Marion Township, accidentally fell on the ice and striking against a projection, cut his throat quite dangerously and would probably have bled to death had he not received prompt medical attention. He was, however, recovering rapidly at last report.

——Real hair switches, from $1,00 up to $6.00 at Mrs. N. K. Dare.

MARRIED

On Thursday, the 28th ult., by Robert Hamill D. D., Mr. William M. Goheen to Miss Kate J. Woods, both of Boalsburg, Pa.

DIED.

Died, Dec. 30th, 1874, at Howard, Centre county, Pa., of paralysis, Sarah, wife of Nathan J. Mitchell, aged 63 years and 11 days.

Mr. Mitchell writes to the American Christian Review the following obituary notice which we copy by the request of friends.

On the 30th of December, 1874, at Howard, Centre Co., Pa., one of the purest and most noble of women left this sin-cursed world, and went home to join the innumerable company, who have washed their robes in the blood of the Lamb. Yes, on that morning at 11 o'clock the wife of my bosom, the dear affianced of my early manhood, left me to wait a little longer before crossing over the river that devides the saints on earth from those in the garden of God. Oh, mysterious and God-ordained union of congenial and loving hearts in conjugal ties! How fearful the laceration of the warm affections when death sunders the exquisitely tender ties? But such is our mortal lot—such our fate. "Sin entered into the world by the disobedience of one man; and death is sin." But there is rest in Jesus, and a full and complete victory over death's dolings through the achievement of the man Christ Jesus. "Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Sarah, my sister-wife, was born in this vicinity on the 18th day of December, 1811, and was therefore, 63 years and 11 days old at the time of her death.

Cheerful and happy, she commenced to prepare breakfast at 6 o'clock, and had all ready, when death, as by lightning's dart, struck her with paralysis of the entire left side. At eleven o'clock all was over—the heart was still, and the anxious cares of a modern Christian woman forever ceased. On New Year's day we laid her body down in the narrow house to await the resurrection day, when mortality shall be swallowed up of life. Six of her children had gone over to the celestial land before her. We laid her by their side. Five had passed away in infancy, and the lamented John P. Mitchell went away on the 21st of June. Now his mother, who so anxiously and faithfully attended to his wants in his last and lingering illness, has joined him in the better land.

At the age of sixteen years she became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was a warm-hearted, active and zealous Methodist young sister. In her nineteenth year, while on a visit to her relations in Ohio, she was taught the way of the Lord more perfectly by her esteemed uncle, Elder John Whitacre, of Minerva, Stark County, who was the husband of her mother's sister Lidia. How many times she spoke of the contrast between Methodism and Apostolic Christianity—the former a system of doubts and fears, interspersed with transient joy and hope, and the latter as a pure perennial spring of water in a desert land. I never knew her to doubt nor manifest any unpleasant forebodings. I never knew her to say an ill-timed or foolish thing. She was positive and aggressive in her nature, and her acts were against sin and crime in every form. Piety and humanity were beautifully and grandly illustrated in her life.

Her funeral was attended by a large concourse of people and sympathizing friends. A discourse appropriate to the occasion was delivered by Elder D. M. Kinter, of Lock Haven, Pa. I know that Christ died and rose again; and therefore I believe that she with whom I walked life's devious pathway for nearly forty-three years, in the relation of husband and wife, will God bring with him, for I believe she fell asleep in Jesus.

The saddest hour of my life was on my return home yesterday. Then, for the first time on my return home in more than forty years, I missed seeing that intelligent and smiling face, and the warm grasp of the hand once given as a token of a wife's fidelity till the parting by death. I resign to the will of Him in whose hands are the issues of life and death, and patiently await a little longer.

Oh, may we be reunited
To the spirits of the just,
Leaving all that sin has blighted
With corruption, in the dust:
Hear us, Jesus,
Thou our Lord, our Life, our Trust.

Nathan J. Mitchell.
